HISTORY OF OAKWOOD COLLEGE BUILDINGS

by Minneola L. Dixon, Archivist
James Melancon, Photographer

In 1895, the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, decided that an industrial school should be established in the South for the training of Negro Seventh-day Adventist youth. The Site Committee (comprised of O.A. Olsen, General Conference President, G.A. Irwin, Southern Union President, and H. Lindsey, General Conference Treasurer) chose a former plantation, located Northwest of Huntsville, Alabama, which impressed each of the three men to exclaim, "This is the place."

This 380 acre property which contained 65 Oak Trees, four buildings, including the Old Mansion, and nine slave huts, was purchased for $6,700. The property was valued at $10,157.57.

Today, after 96 years of steady growth and remarkable development, the Acorn Staff in retrospect extolls the magnitude of Oakwood's present size and scope by featuring campus buildings. We thank God for His blessings and for what he has wrought in behalf of a school which was carved out of a slave plantation. The land, comprised of 1,185 acres, and college facilities are valued at approximately 14 million dollars.

Reflecting on the original campus landscape, we visualize the oval-shaped campus, with the central area covered with luxuriant trees, shrubs, and grass. A large frame was located to the South; and in the North, a panarama of forests and an impressive mountain, is visible.

The beauties of Oakwood's buildings consist of a symphony of architectural structures, indicating the rapid expansion of a school which has gained national and international acclaim.

From the first cement block building, Study Hall, built in 1907 until the present new building, Wade Hall, built in 1991, the next few pages exhibits a dynamic arrangement of photographs which make up the main campus of administrative, academic, and residential buildings on the college property of 1,185 acres.

You will take delight in viewing the pictures, which show the fulfillment of Ellen White's words which she spoke in clarion tones — "It was God's design that Huntsville should have convenient school buildings. There is need of buildings and there is need of larger buildings, but these must not be extravagantly large ..."

The OLD STUDY HALL was one of the many buildings that was built during the W.J. Blake administration. The cornerstone for the first cement block building was laid in 1907. For 33 years, the building was also used as the Administration Building, classroom instruction, and religious services. History records that the building was built by students who brought skill, enthusiasm, and pride to their building assignments. The Old Study Hall building consequently is referred to by three different names: Old Study Hall, Administration Building, and Chapel.

EAST HALL was built in 1909 under the administration of Principal W.J. Blake. The building is currently being renovated after having served originally as a medical facility and a medical training center between 1909 and 1932. After which for nearly 60 years, it was used for various purposes: a president's home, a teacher's home, a men's dorm, a faculty women's home, Behavioral Science, Development, Health Services, Church ministries, and the Credit Union Departments. When renovation is completed, the building will be used as a monument to Oakwood's historical medical work.

J.L. MORAN HALL was built in 1939 and completed in 1944 under the administration of J.L. Moran. This building houses teacher's offices, classrooms, and a College Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 500. The departments of Business & Information Systems, English, and Communications are located here. Students built this building using rock from Oakwood's Rock Quarry.

E.L. CUNNINGHAM HALL was built in 1947 under the administration of President F.L. Peterson. This building was built as a residence for college women. It contains rooms for 136 students. Each room is supplied with hot and cold running water. It also contains a parlor, worship room, utility rooms, and the dean's apartment is on the second floor. The Developmental Learning Center and the College Graphics departments are located on the ground floor.

The TEACHER'S COTTAGES were built in 1947 under the administration of President F.L. Peterson. These cottages afforded some twenty-two homes for the use of faculty members until 1970 when they were used for multiple purposes: some as residence halls for seniors and mature students, some as offices, and one was used for Financial Aid.

W.H. GREEN HALL was built in 1952 under the administration of President F.L. Peterson. This building was built as the College Library, but since 1973 this building houses offices and classrooms for the Behavioral Sciences and History departments. It once was used as the Business Office, the Chaplain's Office, and the National Alumni Department's Office. It was named for the first Black SDA Secretary of the Negro Department of the General Conference.

H.E. FORD SCIENCE HALL was built in 1954 under the administration of President F.L. Peterson. This building in 1954 was dedicated for the teaching of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. It provided classrooms and laboratories, offices, and a small auditorium. It has, since 1971 served as the Student Center. This building is located on the spot where the first stone building was built in 1907 as a Study Hall, Administration and Chapel and Science building. The stone building was considered by many as the most graceful and elegant building on this campus. The Ford Science Hall was named for Harry E. Ford, a World War I veteran whose competence in X-ray techniques had earned him an enviable place in the Hinsdale Sanitarium, just outside of Chicago.

F.L. PETERSON HALL was built in 1955 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. This building was built as a residence hall for freshman college women. It contains a worship room, recreation hall, two lounges, guest rooms, dean's apartment, and has a capacity of 172 persons. The residence hall is now being occupied by freshman college men. It is named for the 2nd black president of Oakwood College, who served the college from 1945 to 1954.

N.E. ASHBY AUDITORIUM was built in 1956 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. This building houses the Physical Education Department and contains athletic equipment, a physical fitness center, and a well-groomed basketball floor. It is named for Nathaniel E. Ashby, who was a History Professor and one who believed in discipline and toughness as major requirements for teen-age faith.

STORE/BAKERY/POST OFFICE was built in 1957 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. This building provides community services for the campus family and neighboring communities.

The COLLEGE LAUNDRY was built in 1959 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. When constructed, this building provided modern laundry equipment to care for the laundry needs of the campus family. Some commercial work was done for the Redstone Arsenal Army Base and other citizens of Huntsville. Since 1988 the building has been used by the Physical Plant Department.

The ANNA KNIGHT ELEMENTARY was built in 1960 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. The building was built to serve as a laboratory school for the Elementary Education Department. It is named for Anna Knight who was the first Black SDA Superintendent of Education. Grades 1 through 8 were taught until 1986, when the enrollment became so large that some classes had to be taught in the new Church building. The building is not currently being used, due to an untimely fire that destroyed the building in 1989. A new $1 million Elementary facility is being constructed.

The DAIRY BARN was built in 1960 under the administration of President G.J. Millet. This building was erected to house a modern, well equipped milking parlor. Until 1988, when the dairy operation was discontinued, this building served admirably the dairy needs of the campus and community.

G.E. PETERS HALL was built in 1964 under the administration of President A.V. Pinkney. This building was constructed to house the Music and Art Departments. Currently, it contains offices, practice rooms, choir rooms, and an auditorium. The building was named for Elder George E. Peters, the 2nd Black Secretary of the General Conference Negro Department.

BESSIE CARTER HALL was built in 1966 under the administration of President A.V. Pinkney. This building was built to house 275 college women above the freshman rank. A very modernly equipped residence hall, this building was extended to accommodate the growing female population in the late 70's. Currently, the building houses freshman women. It was named for Bessie Carter, founder of the prosperous Carter's Nursing Home and Philanthropist in the cause of Christian education.

W.J. BLAKE MEMORIAL CENTER was built in 1968 under the administration of President Frank W. Hale, Jr. This building was built to house the administrative offices of the College, the Cafeteria, Student Center, and other Student organizational needs. In 1981, the Student Center and its auxiliaries were relocated to the W.E. Ford Hall and made room for expansion of administrative offices. This building is located on the spot where once stood the "Morning Star" school house, and other small cottages. It was named for W.J. Blake, the sixth principal (1906-1911). He was known as the principal who developed a good policy in regards to race relations.

O.B. EDWARDS HALL was built in 1969 under the administration of President Frank W. Hale, Jr. Housing 240 college men above the freshman rank, this building bears the name of Dr. O.B. Edwards, who attended Oakwood College, earned a doctorate from the University of Nebraska, and served Oakwood College for more than 50 years as a teacher and academic dean. He was the chairman of the History Department and was the College Historian; having begun the writing of the unpublished history of Oakwood College.

EVA B. DYKES LIBRARY was built in 1973 under the administration of President Calvin B. Rock. This building is a modern learning center. Housed in its very elegant facilities are all of the standard library services needed to support a strong academic program, including the Media Center, the Archives, and Special Collection Library. This building is named after Dr. Eva Beatrice Dykes, the first black woman in the history of the nation to complete requirements for the Ph.D degree. She graduated from Radcliffe College in 1921 with honors and taught at Howard University, where she was once voted the outstanding teacher of humanities. She joined the Oakwood College faculty in 1945 and became the chairperson for the English Department. She was a devout Christian, a demanding teacher, a powerful disciplinarian, a musician, a women's day speaker, a celebrated figure in Black history, and a good ingathering solicitor. She retired from teaching in 1976 and passed in 1983.

W.R. BEACH NATATORIUM was built in 1974 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This building houses a 120 x 45 Olympic Swimming Pool and other physical education offices and meeting rooms. Named for W. R. Beach, a General Conference Secretary, who served as Chairman of Oakwood's Board between 1965-1975.

J.T. STAFFORD BUILDING was built in 1974 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This building was built as a modern educational center of classrooms, laboratories, and offices for the 9th through 12th grades learning activities. It is named for Elder J.T. Stafford, a graduate of Oakwood College, who served as the Academy principal for 25 years (1968-1983). This building was built near the property where the Oakwood College Orphanage once stood in 1912.

OAKWOOD COLLEGE CHURCH was built in 1977 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This very beautiful building houses the 2,700 seat sanctuary, pastoral suite, choir room, kitchen, multi-purpose room, Sabbath School classrooms, a baptistry, a medical room, and a treasurer's office. Since 1977, E.C. Ward has served the membership as pastor.

MOSELEY RELIGION COMPLEX was built in 1977 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This ultra modern structure houses teachers' offices, classrooms, and the C.T. Richards Chapel. It bears the named of Elder C.E. Moseley, a 1924 graduate of Oakwood College. After a few years of serving the ministry in Illinois, he joined the staff at Oakwood College in 1934 as a Bible teacher. He has done the most to inspire and prepare young people for the ministry. More than 90% of the Black SDA pastors and leaders received their classroom college ministerial preparatory instructions from him. An excellent preacher himself, Moseley stood solid as a block of granite for guarded emotions and restrained impulses. In 1954, he became the General Conference Associate Secretary and Field Secretary. Upon his retirement he moved back to the Oakwood College community and taught on a part-time basis in the Religion Department. He is currently the Senior Elder for the Oakwood College church.

The C.T. RICHARDS CHAPEL was built in 1977 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This chapel is located in the Moseley Complex and serves as a modern facility for training young men for pastoral ministry and preaching. The chapel is also used for other college meetings. It is named for Elder Clarence T. Richards, a theology professor who taught at Oakwood College between 1941 and 1988.

WOCG RADIO was built in 1980 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This radio station was established on Oakwood Road, less than one mile west of the central campus. Its existence is credited to Elder James E. Dykes for the early preparatory work leading to its establishment. The Radio serves the community within a 100-mile radius and is under the supervision of the Department of English and Communications Departments.

The SCIENCE COMPLEX was built in 1981 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This massive ultra modern science structure houses the departments of biology, home economics, mathematics, physics, and nursing. It provides 85,000 square feet of laboratory classroom office and storage space.

The NATELLKA E. BURRELL EDUCATION BUILDING was built in 1982 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This building was used for varied sundry purposes before the Education Department moved in 1982. Originally the building was built as an industrial shop for the teaching of carpentry and other crafts. Later the Academy used it for classrooms. In the 1970's, it was used as the Nursing Department. Today, it houses teacher's offices, classrooms, and a laboratory for students pursuing degrees in Education. It is named for Dr. Natelka Burrell who taught 23 years at Oakwood College and served as the head of the Education Department, before moving to Andrews University in the 70's. She had given 55 years of SDA service before her death in 1990.

The SKATING RINK was built in 1983 under the administration of Dr. Calvin B. Rock. This recreational building was built to allow for supervised and controlled skating activities for students.

TRULA E. WADE HALL was built in 1991 under the administration of President Benjamin Reaves. The 5.2 million dollar building is called the "Oakwood Hilton." This massive, three story ultra modern building houses 360 ladies, and is named in honor of Miss Trula E. Wade, a pioneer teacher, educator, and Oakwood College Dean of Women for 22 years of the 33 years she served on the Oakwood campus.

MISSION COMPLETED!

Patience, kindness, and appreciation are just a few of the many important qualities students gain from day-to-day interaction with others on campus.

February 4th was a day for the entire campus. Faculty and Staff, college, academy, and elementary students all gathered on the front lawn to cheer on the Buffalo Soldiers.

ON A MISSION

GOAL

To provide opportunities which will help students identify, clarify, and develop their aesthetic, moral, and spiritual values and philosophy, through supportive student services programs which facilitate growth and success in the academic, social, economic, and spiritual community.

THE MISSION

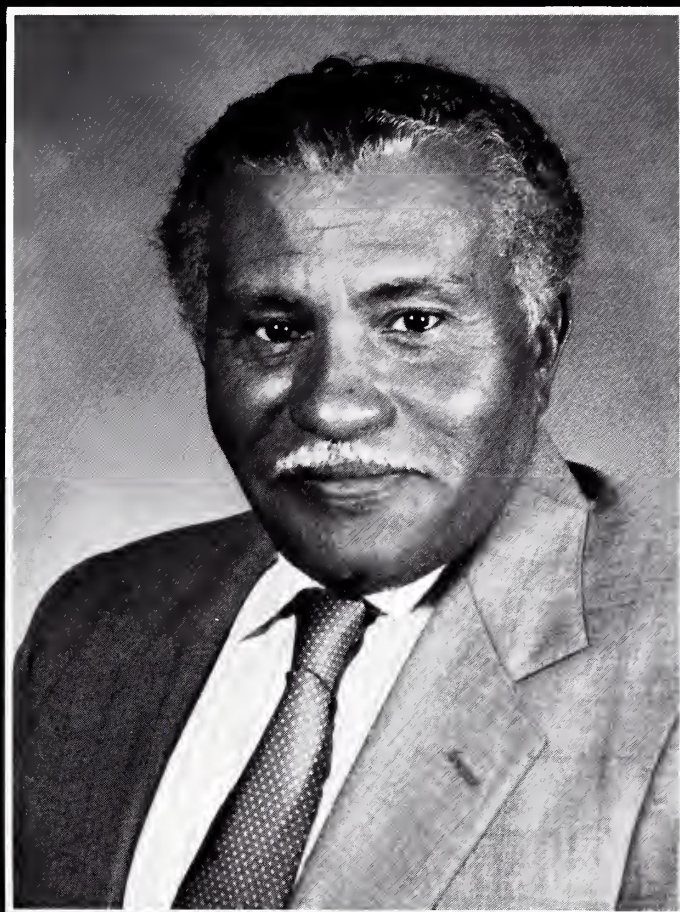

No country, government, or institution can reach its goal unless they define their mission. That is why, for 96 years, Oakwood College has been chiseling its mission of spiritual, intellectual, cultural, personal, vocational, and physical excellence in the hearts and minds of Christian college students. This year, in keeping with the high ideals that our ancestors have set before us, the United Student Movement has spared no expense in helping the campus to focus on the mission which says that God has called us to share with the world our great message of His soon return.

REVELATION 14:6-12

IN DEDICATION

LAWRENCE O. JACOBS, JR.

On Staff 1957-1960; 1962-1968; and 1971-1992

Lawrence C. Jacobs, Jr. was born in Madison, AL, the first child of Lawrence, Sr. and Sadie Jacobs. He received his schooling through Oakwood Elementary and Academy, and later received his first Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology from Oakwood College in 1958 and began work as manager of the Oakwood Dairy.

On December 6, 1959, he married his college sweetheart, June Hicks, in her home city of Selma, Alabama, and fathered three children, Monica, Michael Anthony, and Lawrence III.

He entered the U.S. Army in 1960 and completed his tour of duty as a medic in 1962. After completing his military service, he then returned to Oakwood and resumed work as dairy manager. During this time, he felt a need for another area of training and entered the field of business. He received a second Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He enjoyed the challenge this area presented, and a feeling the desire to increase his knowledge in that discipline, he studied at Atlanta University and received the Master's degree in Business Administration.

The Southern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists called him to serve as auditor, and he worked in that capacity for two years. He later accepted a call to return to his alma mater to chair the Business Department. After service in that area for several years, "it was time," according to Mr. Jacobs, to study again. He matriculated at Middle Tennessee State University and became a doctoral candidate in Economics, an area he felt would enhance the Department of Business for Oakwood College. His expertise in economics enriched the academics of hundreds of students.

Mr. Jacobs served on many committees at the college such as the Faculty Senate, Academic Policies, Curriculum, and Budget and Efficiency committees. He served as an Adjunct Professor at several institutions in the area, including Columbia College and Alabama A&M University. He was active in a number of professional organizations including the Association for Business Communication, Southwestern Business Association, and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

After returning to Oakwood College from his studies, he continued his faithful service to the Oakwood College church and served as head treasurer for almost twenty years. He played a major role in the financial management of the Oakwood College Church affairs. The building of the church structure, and the overall financial stability of the church took high priority and absorbed a great portion of his time, energy, and concern. Once the Oakwood Academy became conference/church supported, he added this to his area of concern. He was steadfast in his efforts to assure that the Oakwood College Church was faithful in its support of the school and that the church was doing its part to assure its continued operation. He continued giving of his time and energy to his alma mater, church, and community until the time of his death.

Many will have fond memories of Lawrence Jacobs, Jr. — his life touched many and meant much to all who knew him. He loved his family, his church, his work, his colleagues and students, friends, and life. They were important to him, and he wanted to see everyone happy.

STRIVING FOR

EXCELLENCE

Here at Oakwood College, our instructors and advisors are charged with the responsibility of nurturing our academic growth. And, of course, the various departments are obliged to collaborate in the cohesive effort of providing the environment where the harmonious development of all facilities can be obtained. We believe our scholastic pursuits would be greatly hampered, unless God is recognized as the source of all wisdom, knowledge, and understanding. This is why we are often reminded to "trust in the Lord with all our hearts, to rely solely on Him for understanding."

Yes, our instructors come to class loaded with volumes, manuals, outlines for scientific formulas and philosophical theories; but they also have a prayer in their hearts, and a devotional thought to share with their students. Though most of our professors place a special emphasis on the ABC's of prayer — ask, believe, and claim — they also insist that we study to show ourselves approved unto God, our peers, parents, and, of course, on our tests quizzes, and final examinations. The administrators too, in cooperation with the United Student Movement, are committed to the task of promoting "excellence without excuse" in all aspects of their official duties, hoping that the students would embrace this noble philosophy. For as one commentator puts it, "Excellence is achieved! It is not stumbled into in the course of amusing oneself. It is built upon discipline and tenacity of purpose." This is why most of our students purpose in their hearts to make studying a life long quest, rather than a transitory activity.

Students can always be found at the Eva B. Dykes library day or night. Flags representing various countries are displayed outside the library.

When your classes are rough,
 And your teachers get tough;
 When the cafeteria's food
 Puts you in the sleeping mood;
 When your assignments are due,
 And you come down with the flu;
 When you're cramming all night,
 And you make your roommate uptight;
 When the alarm clock sounds,
 And gets you up with a frown;
 When your RA writes you up,
 And your dating plans are stopped;
 When your funds are low,
 And you don't know where to go;
 Fall on your knees and simply say:
 Dear God, I need your strength
 To conquer this dreaded day.
 Open my eyes so I can see
 Your sufficient grace reserved for me.

ourtships, friendships, relationships: three elastic terms of human relations that have the potential to evoke myriads of ideals about that inclusive aspect of student life. It is almost impossible for a normal student to complete four years of college without pausing at one of these social intersections. Since Oakwood College is considered the earthly Eden, it is normal for one of our Adams to approach an Eve with this line: "I am missing a rib, and I heard it was used to make you the beauty that you are."

Naturally, words like these usually get their desired response, whether it be a beaming smile or an agreeable answer. And the rest is regarded as "precious memories" that often linger long enough for wedding bells, immediately following graduation. It seems reasonable to conclude that the wisdom of Solomon is responsible for the friendly aura that permeates our campus causing students to exhibit such cordial, gracious, and winsome demeanor. "For those who have friends are often friendly; and a true friend is of more value than a brother." (Paraphrased Version of Proverbs 18:24)

DORM LIFE

Dorm life is one of the most unforgettable aspects of the college experience. About 80% of Oakwood's students live in one of four dormitories: Carter or Wade Hall for the women and Peterson or Edwards Hall for the men. For many, the dormitory is more than a residence hall; it is a place where girls enter womanhood and males enter manhood. It is in this capacity that many residents demonstrate their ability to be independent. Students develop socially and emotionally through daily interaction with their peers. Most students have at least one roommate, in some cases two or three. Despite everyday conflicts of who gets to use the telephone first or when the lights should go off, students get along well together. Dorm life also give students a chance to make their own decisions, and the opportunity of learning and interacting with individuals from various cultures. When one weighs all the benefits of dorm life, including the worship services the family atmosphere, dorm activities, and the many late night get togethers with friends, nothing else adds up quite the same.

Oakwood College students come from all over this world and with them they bring different fads and fashions. The Yearbook Staff this year asked different students what they felt was in and out. The results of the poll were presented on the previous page.

These trends go in and out as time goes by. They also vary with the different students depending on what state they're from, their peer group, and their personal tastes. No one fashion is right or wrong. They are all needed to give Oakwood the variety and style that it has today.

Kimani Fraser along with many other males prefer dreaded hairstyles. This is done by twisting the hair.

"The Man, the Car, and his Country"
Terry Johnson takes pride in his car and being an Air Force Veteran.

"The Lady and the Car."

Supporting UNCF has great benefits. LaVerda Richards raised over $18,000 for UNCF, and received a 1990 Mazda 323 and an academic scholarship.

"A real sports car for a real Oakwood Man" Most students will agree to the fact that DJ loves his Nissan 300ZX.

FAITHFUL WHEELS

Think back to one of the most unforgettable days of your life. Maybe it was the day of your first date, your sixteenth birthday, or the day you arrived on the OC campus for the first time. For some, this may be the day you got your driver's license after the second or third time failing; or better yet, the day you got your first car.

We now take the time to pay a special tribute to the vehicles that have, by God's grace, brought us through the rain, sleet, and snow on the highways and byways and continue to give us unconditional service. So the next time you slip into that old or new ride don't forget to send up a little prayer to God for your transportation and for safe traveling mercies.

"Colleen's car ... cute, customized, and clean."

Vegetarian Chix Stixs, Chicken Tetrizzini, Vegetable Quiche, Turkey Loaf, Brussel Sprouts, Potato Chip Casserole, and Sheppard's Pie are some of the items served at the Oakwood College Cafeteria. There are often familiar responses that follow these unique entrees: "What's that," "Look, it's moving," "Man, that's nasty," and "It's good." All of these things put together make our cafeteria one of the best in the nation. Students may scoff about the quality of the food, yet, they always return to that familiar spot that is the source of one of Oakwood's fondest memories. In the end, when a student reflects back, he/she can't help but say, "Ummm."

"I'm strong to the finish 'cause I eats me spinach.
I'm Popeye the Sailor Man. Tout, tout!"

It's always interesting to see how many people devour the food in the cafeteria in spite of how much they complain about it.

Between Stacy's apparent indigestion and Diane's sneezing, dinner in the cafe is fine.

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU GO "UMMMM"

The cafeteria is not only a place of dining, it is a place of relaxation.

NAME: Sandia Lister
MAJOR: Physical Therapy

Sandia Lister is Miss Oakwood. She governs herself by God and has a passion for life. Part of what makes her life so rewarding is her hobbies: poetry, writing, skating, bike riding, track, and swimming. Sandia is a Physical Therapy major and she joined the UNCF campaign which help to fund her education. In her quest, she raised approximately eight thousand dollars, more than any of the other contestants, and became the 1992 Oakwood College UNCF Queen. Her prizes included a computer and printer and a half year tuition scholarship. She has been photographed in Ebony, Black Excellence and the Oakwood College Magazine. She also had the opportunity of representing the college at the National UNCF Convention in Birmingham, Alabama.

NAME: Rick Robbins
MAJOR: Psychology

Rick is thoroughly intrigued by the workings of the mind. "My life experiences and opportunities have shown me that I have a special calling in this area of study," he says. By working on an intern for a class requirement, he prepared himself for the job he now holds as a Psychiatric Specialist at the Crestwood Adolescent Unit. Rick says his job at Crestwood has given him experience in dealing with a variety of personalities, an important skill for his future career. Rick hopes to one day own and operate an inpatient facility for adolescents.

NAME: A.J. Reid
MAJOR: Music Education

It is splendid when one can get paid for doing something that he or she enjoys, as it is in AJ's case. He is most comfortable behind an object that has black and white keys — a piano. AJ uses his musical talent to play at the Mt. Moriah Methodist Church. He plans to attend graduate school, and then teach his favorite subject, music history, and individual piano lessons at a college or university. Individual piano lessons will enable him to accompany vocalists, arrange various ensembles, and give individual recitals.

NAME: Ruby Lathon
MAJOR: Computer Science

As a Senior Computer Science major, Ruby wanted all the practical experience she could get before graduation in May. During the summer she gained valuable experience while participating in the Hartford Insurance Internship. During the eleven week program, she was responsible for planning, organizing, and formatting a new computer manual and index for the Information Management Department of ITT Hartford Insurance Company. "The work experience was extremely valuable and the lasting friendships made will be most memorable," she says. After graduation, she plans to attend graduate school and earn a MBA degree. She later plans to own her own computer consulting company.

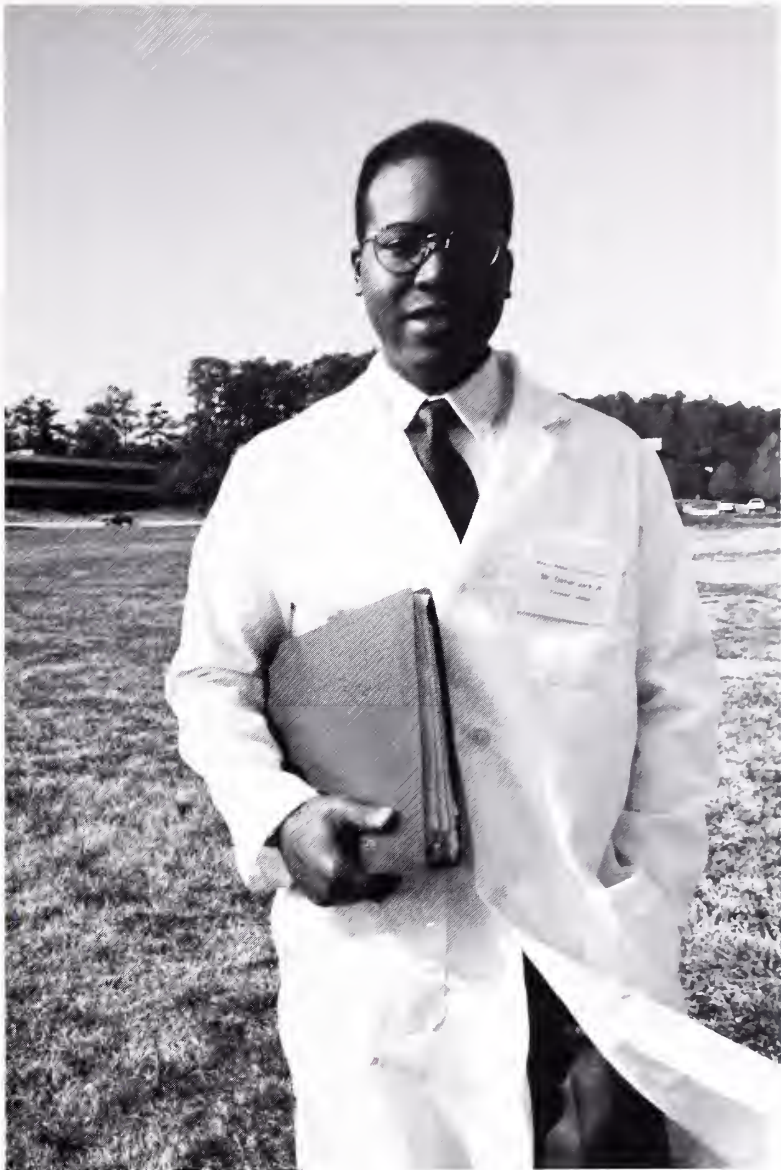

Paul Williamson

NAME: Donna Dowdy
MAJOR: Business

In business, one must have the ability to organize and make creative decisions. Donna feels that she has been blessed with this ability. She had the opportunity to gain valuable experience by working at the OC Payroll Office. She also worked for the Federal Employers Association as an assistant to the owner. The skills and knowledge gained from these two jobs helped her to get a job at the Columbia General Hospital in Washington, DC. She was told that her trusting and kind qualities aided her in securing the job. Donna plans to specialize in Health Care Administration and own and manage a health spa and chain of vegetarian restaurants.

Fred Pullins

NAME: Daniel Jack
MAJOR: Biochemistry

Daniel says it is important to get out there and find a job in your field. He's done just that. He works for the Minority Access to Research Career (MARC), a government paid job sponsored through the College's Chemistry Department. This job enables him to do biomedical research and/or teach. He says his knowledge of research and high grade point average influenced his acceptance into this program. His future goal is to obtain a Master's of Health degree in Epidemiology and practice medicine and patient-oriented research.

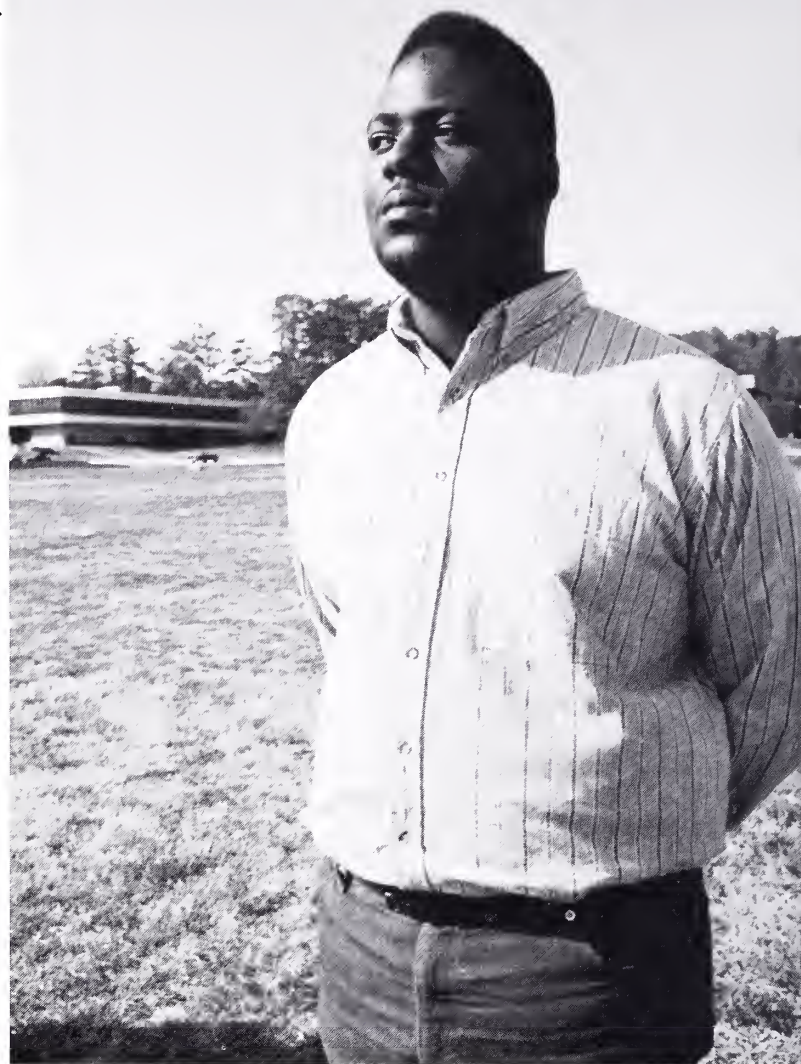

NAME: Kimberli Thomas
 MAJOR: Mathematics and Computer Science

Kimberli loves numbers. She has been intrigued by math since grade school and she became interested in computers during high school. "Both of these areas are challenging and fun," she says. Her strong math and computer science background qualified her for the Summer Minority Program. And her high grade point average, motivation, and determination helped her in securing acceptance into the eleven week internship with the University of Hartford in Connecticut. She plans to attend graduate school and later become a Systems Analyst for AT&T.

NAME: Makoa Jones
 MAJOR: Mathematics and Chemistry

Makoa's desire is to teach young blacks and other minorities about the importance and fun of science. This desire sprouted during times he had various jobs working with young people. His first encounter with youngsters was as a Study Buddy at the University Place Elementary School. Teaching and tutoring jobs from that point on became available and much more of an interest to him. He presently works at the Oakwood Academy. He does a variety of tasks including tutoring, grading papers, and teaching.

NAME: Adria Kizer
 MAJOR: Commerical Art

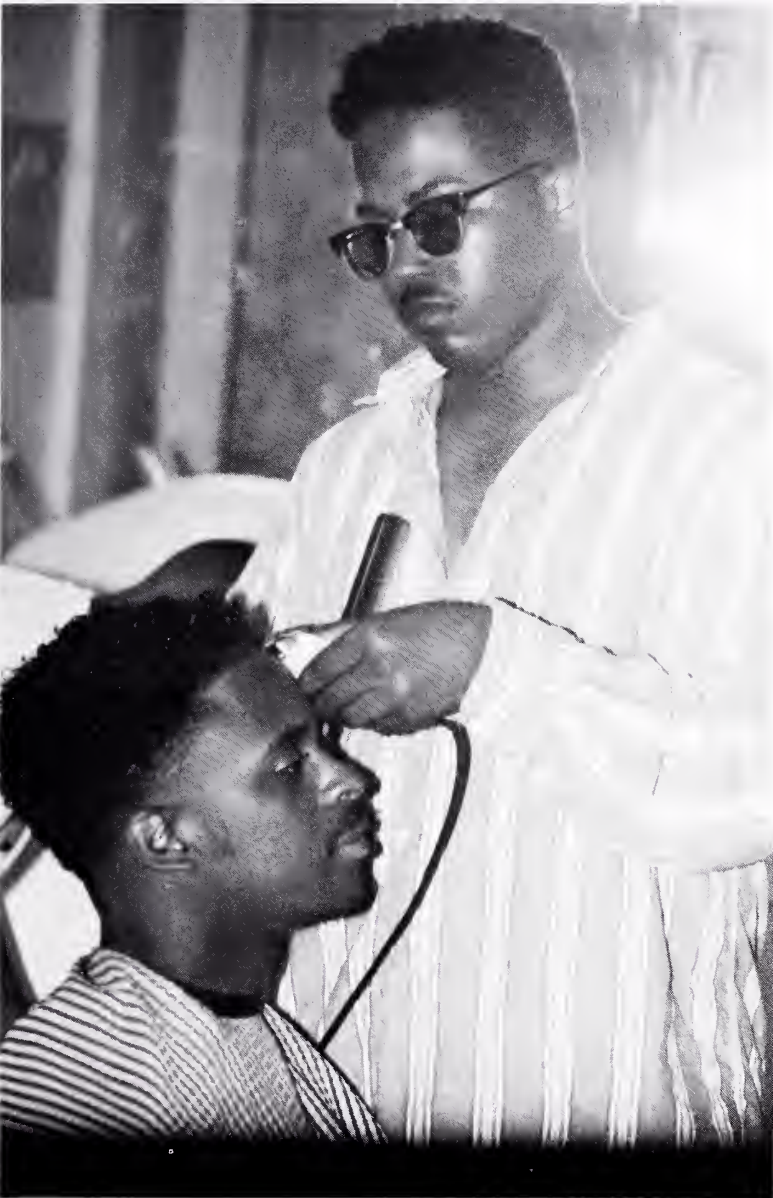

Working at the College's Graphixx Productions has enabled Adria to continue to fulfill her desire and talent of expressing creativity through art and graphic design. She uses her God given talent to help spread the gospel in these last and evil days. Her job also allows her to keep abreast to the technological discoveries and changes in art. She hopes to one day own her own commercial art and photography business.

Nancy Rutledge

NAME: Selam Hallemecot
MAJOR: Nursing

As a Senior Nursing major, Selam finds her job at the Huntsville Hospital to be very rewarding. "There is pleasure in being able to comfort people," she says. After graduation, Selam plans to obtain a Master's degree in a specialized area of nursing. She also wants to join an organization that provides world wide health and medical services.

NAME: James Patterson
MAJOR: Ministerial Theology

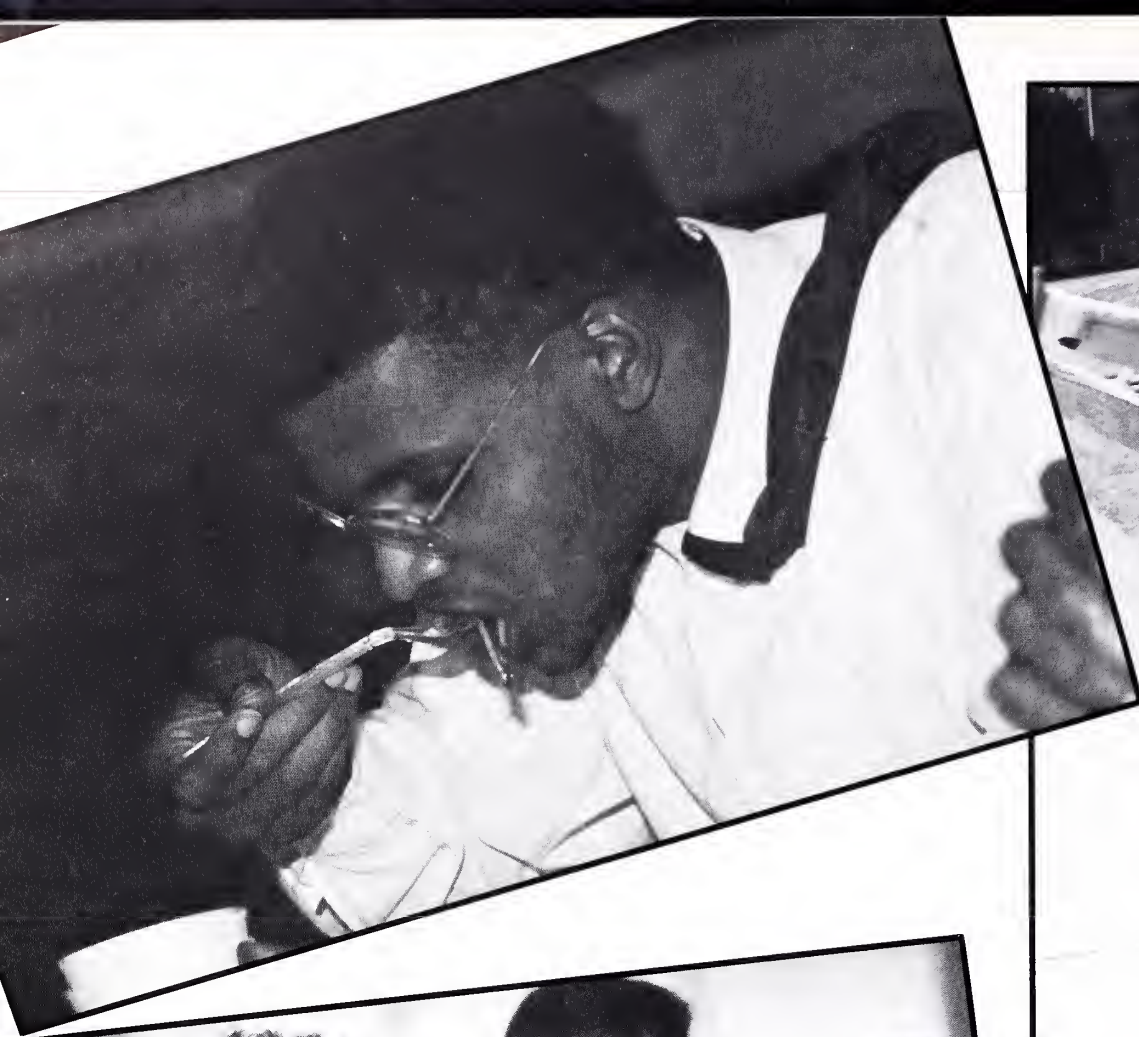

James say that all aspects of his life have narrowed down to the ministry. His background experience as a Methodist pastor and his work in the mission field prepared him for the job he now holds with the Southern California Conference at the Bethel SDA Church in Pomona, California. His greatest desire is to move people from "Sunday School" theology to a solid spiritual education. He aspires to work in Pastoral Ministry educating adults in religion.

NAME: Andre Campbell
MAJOR: Psychology

Owning your own business is a dream of many college students. Andre, a Sophomore Psychology major, is already the proud owner of a haircutting business. He began cutting hair six years ago at Pine Forge Academy. "I used to do it just for the money," he says. But it wasn't until he became a student at OC that he began to view this trade as an art and not just a job for money. Andre doesn't plan to cut hair for the rest of his life; however he's making good money during his college years by using a practical skill.

NINETEEN NINETY CURRENT

One of the many rallying points for international environmentalists was the Brazilian rain forest. Thousands of square miles of forest were being cut down and environmentalists from around the world petitioned governments, held rallies, and led marches to stop the devastation.

South Africa President F.W. De Klerk tried to move his country closer to the United States and other western nations by loosening his tough stand on apartheid. President Bush lifted some economic sanctions and the International Olympic Committee ended a 21-year ban on South African participation in Olympic competition. These actions went a long way toward ending the international isolation of South Africa.

As the school year began in September, 1991, President George Bush was trying to get his nominees to the Supreme Court (Clarence Thomas) and the Central Intelligence Agency (Robert Gates) successfully through the confirmation process. Two of his major tasks were peace in the Middle East and a lingering recession at home in the United States. With a presidential election around the corner, the president was putting together his re-election team.

The failure of the Soviet coup left Fidel Castro and his island nation somewhat isolated. Cuba had relied heavily on the Soviet Union for aid. Now, with troubles of their own, the Soviet aid to Cuba was in doubt. But after 32 years in power, Fidel Castro remained a towering figure in Cuba. Almost 60 percent of the Cuban population was born after he came to power in 1959.

ONE - NINETY TWO EVENTS

The Group of Seven industrial democracies (Known as G-7) held an economic summit that dealt with a wide range of issues, from world economic policy to building world partnership to international trade. Leaders of the G-7 Economic summit gathered at the Tower of London. From left: France's President Mitterrand, President Bush, Italy's Premier Andreotti, EC President Jacques Delors, Japan's Prime Minister Kaifu, Britain's Prime Minister Major, Canada's Prime Minister Mulroney, and German Chancellor Kohl. At right is Field Marshal Sir John Stanier, Constable of the Tower.

Michael Jordan flew through the air with the greatest of ease. The 28-year old basketball star of the Chicago Bulls led his team to the NBA championship in 1991. In this photo he drives up the lane for a finger roll lay-up during a game with the Houston Rockets.

Ten of thousands of Iraqis were killed by the United States and its allies after Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait. Hussein's soldiers retreated from Kuwait, leaving the country in shambles, but the Iraqi leader remained in power.

NINETEEN NINETY

KUWAITI OIL FIRE

During the war Iraq, Saddam Hussein's forces, ignited hundreds of oil well in Kuwait. Smoke belched from the torched wells for many months afterwards. Satellite photos showed a black-grey plume swept south from Kuwait as far south as the Arabian Sea — equal to the distance from Manhattan to the tip of Florida. Meanwhile, the invasion of Iraq caused destruction estimated to be in the hundreds of millions of dollars. Months after the American military forces freed Kuwait city, the effects of war were still evident.

KUWAIT AFTER THE WAR

ANTI-US PROTEST PHILIPPINES

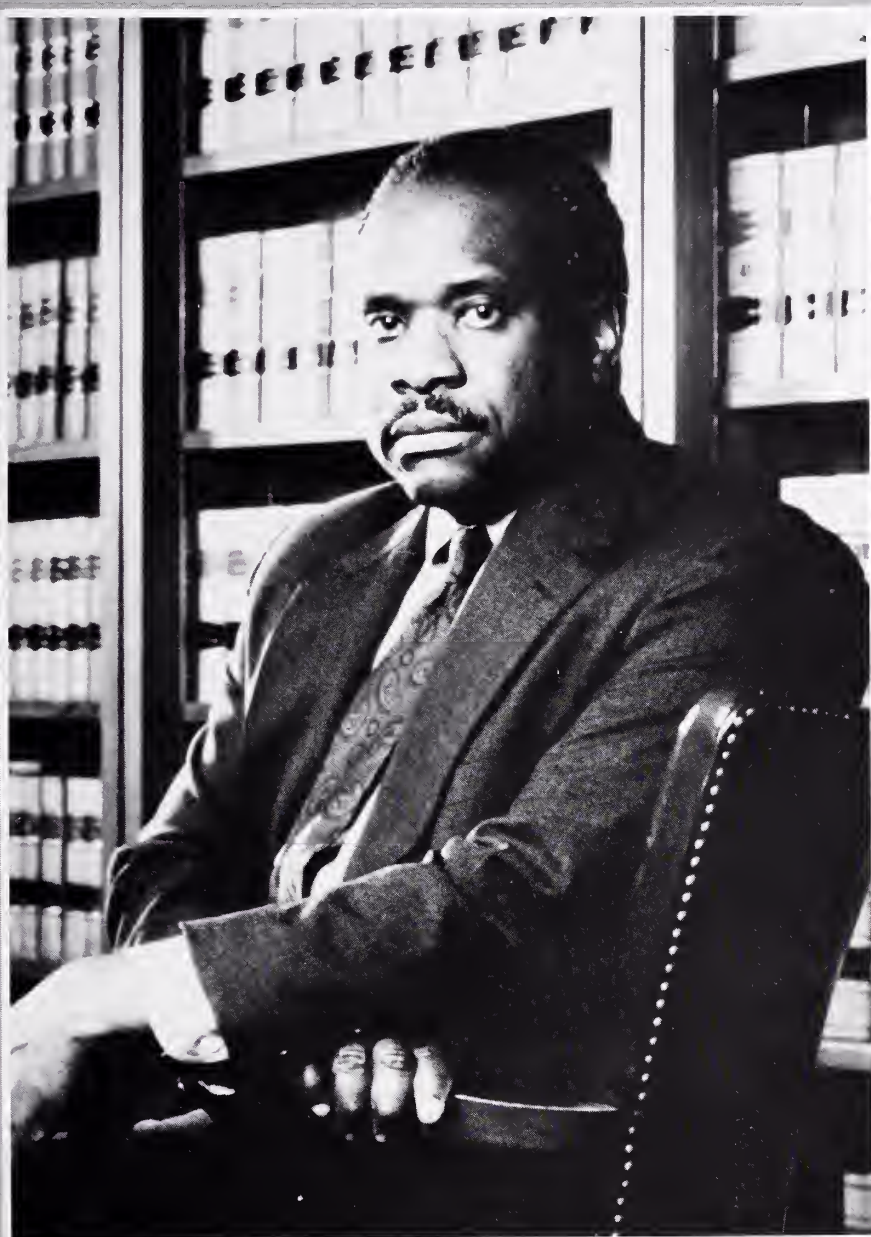

Faced with widespread opposition to her proposal for a national referendum to approve a new 10-year American lease on the Subic Bay Naval Station in the Philippines, President Corazon C. Aquino accepted a compromise. It allowed for a three-year American withdrawal from the huge military base.

YUGOSLAVIAN UNREST

Civil war broke out in Yugoslavia. The war unraveled this nation of six divergent republic, two of which — Croatia and Slovenia declared independence from the federation in June 1991. All six were held together under the leadership of President Tito. But Tito's death in 1980 and the crumbling of emergence of forces clamoring for democracy and ethnic self-determination set loose Yugoslavia's forces.

Clarence Thomas

President Bush nominated Clarence Thomas, a 43-year-old conservative Republican, to replace the retiring Justice Thurgood Marshall on the Supreme Court. Nearly three months later he was confirmed by the U.S. Senate by a vote of 52-48. But, it was a tumultuous confirmation process. After a series of public hearings, the Senate Judiciary Committee split 7-7 on his nomination. Just days before the full Senate was to vote, some serious allegations of sexual harassment were raised. Professor Anita F. Hill, a 35-year-old law professor from the University of Oklahoma and former assistant for Thomas at the E.E.O.C., claimed she was the victim of sexual harassment while the two worked together about 10 years earlier. The Senate Committee reconvened and heard about three days of riveting testimony from Thomas and Hill, and a group of supporters from both sides. The full Senate then debated the issue and voted to confirm the U.S. Appeals court judge to the nation's highest court.

NINETEEN NINETY

The New York Stock Exchange continued to hit new highs. Not long after school began in 1991, the market was closing over 3,000 on a regular basis. The United States was still in a recession, but the U.S. stock market continued to move to new heights.

The coup in the Soviet Union began on August 19, 1991. An eight-man committee led by Vice President Yanayev took power from Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Yanayev said Gorbachev was ill. As Russian President Boris Yeltsin called on Russians to resist the coup, tanks and other military gear moved to Moscow.

— On Tuesday, August 20, President George Bush was joined by the European Community and demanded Gorbachev's return to power. Three of the leaders of the new eight-man ruling committee were said to have stepped down.

— On Wednesday, August 21, the leaders of the coup were reported to have fled Moscow. Tanks and armored personnel carriers moved away from the Russian Parliament and leaders of the national legislature demanded that Gorbachev be returned to power. The Communist Party denounced the takeover.

— On Thursday, August 22, Gorbachev returned to Moscow before dawn and resumed power.

The coup ended communist rule in the Soviet Union, and it began a series of reforms and changes that will continue for years to come.

ONE NINETY - TWO

Magic Johnson, the famed Los Angeles Lakers basketball star, announced he was infected with the HIV virus that causes AIDS. Johnson made his announcement to a stunned press conference in Los Angeles.

Floods hit Texas late in the year, causing extensive damage. Here, fire-fighters rescue a calf as the Colorado River overflows its banks near Wharton.

After nearly seven years as a hostage, Terry Anderson was released on December 4, 1991. Anderson spent 2,455 days as a hostage in Lebanon. He was the longest held American hostage. He is shown here arriving in Wiesbaden, Germany, being greeted by his sister, Peggy Say.

Theme: "Striving for higher heights and achieving greater goals."

Motto: "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not harm you, plans to give you hope and a future" (Jeremiah 29:11 NIV).

Class of 1992 is proud to present to employers and graduate schools students who not only exemplify Christian character but also possess the necessary skills and education in accounting, biology, business administration, chemistry, communications, computer science, education, English, history, home economics, mathematics, music, nursing, psychology, religion, social work, and theology.

These students who have experienced their frightening frustrated freshman year, their sensitive sacrificing sophomore year, their joyous judicious junior year and finally their scholarly stimulating senior year and are prepared to attain new heights and goals that the future holds. These students who have been enriched spiritually, intellectually, culturally, personally, vocationally, and physically for the opportunities that will be offered to each of them; opportunities to expand their perspectives; opportunities to exchange their ideas and with that exchange welcome new understandings and appreciations. Sentimentally we can look back and reminisce about the times we stayed up all night to prepare for the next day's assignments or exam; the athletic events we attended; the AYS, Forum, and Weeks of Prayer services that inspired us; the friends who stuck by us through thick and thin and thick again; the anxiety and stress that caused some of us to consider dropping out of school; the moves from Carter to Wade and from Cunningham to Peterson; and the years we have come to know ourselves and God.

Now the time has come for us to maintain the Oakwood College tradition of excellence which began in 1909 with seven graduates and continues through the graduates of 1992 to march forward with boldness and claim rewards of the future that this earth has to offer as we continue to prepare for our eternal rewards.

The recreational activities of the College are designed to serve the wide variety of leisure time interests of students.

During the school year distinguished guest speakers address the student body at the chapel hour as well as conduct religious emphasis weeks.

ON A MISSION

To integrate faith and learning, encourage a vibrant spiritual experience, prepare individuals for the proclamation of the second coming of Christ, and provide an atmosphere for appreciation of oneself and affirmation of cultural diversity.

Happy days

Make the most of happy days and thank God for them all.
Make the most of sunny
hours before the shadows fall.
Make the most of every scrap of good that comes your way.
Enjoy it and be thankful at the ending of the day.
Make the most of what you learn with every passing year.
Do your best by those you love and help them while they're here. All too swiftly time goes by, so value every bit. Take life as it comes to you and make the most of it.

It's not unusual to see Faculty and Staff attending student functions on Thursday and Wednesday nights.

Pine Forge Academy graduates make up a intregal part of the Oakwood College family. Graduates from PFA classes of the '40's-'50's enjoyed an unforgettable school reunion on February 1st at the Ruth Mosby-Green Chapel in Wade Hall.

MISSION

GOAL

To provide academic programs and comprehensive curricula made up of a broad range of degree programs which will allow each student to acquire knowledge and skills to grow personally, socially, academically and professionally, and to meet their needs and societal demands.

FACULTY & STAFF

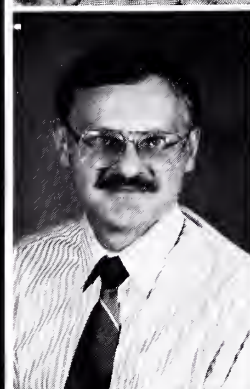

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

The Department is interested with providing its students both the breadth of understanding and the opportunity to explore many areas in biology in greater depth. The required courses and cognates in the concentration establish a core of fundamental knowledge in biological and related science. Students then build on this base from a variety of other courses, laboratory, and discussions that explore areas within biology from the basic level to current research topics. The development of laboratory and field work skill is encouraged. The major in biology prepares students for immediate employment as well as for professional training in medicine and biomedical research.

On staff since 1977.

Alan Williams
Assistant Professor of Computer Science
M.S., Andrews University, 1989.
On staff since 1989.

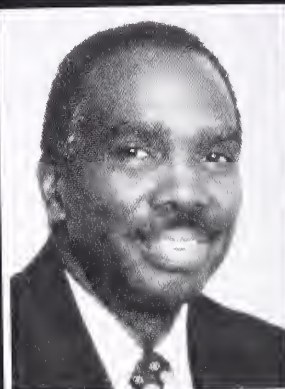

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

The mission of this department is threefold: 1) to prepare its students for acceptance into graduate and/or professional schools, 2) to give them the training required for employment in the laboratories of Government and industry, and 3) to prepare them for careers in teaching chemistry at the secondary level. While pursuing these objectives, the Department seeks to offer its students a quality program of chemical education that underscores the importance of the liberal arts and nurtures the integration of faith and reason.

"Ask an old chemist what he would like most, and his answer would be a young chemist. This statement describes the atmosphere of enthusiasm about chemistry and chemical research that permeated the Department. Indeed, chemistry at Oakwood is an exciting confrontation of the student with the theories, the methods, and the armamentarium of modern chemistry. Many of the graduates of this department have earned doctoral degrees in science, medicine, and dentistry from some of the most prestigious universities in this country and in Europe. Others have achieved successful careers in the laboratories of Government and industry.

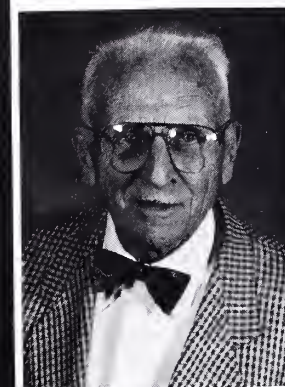

According to statistics (1979) from the Association of American Medical Colleges AAMC, Oakwood ranked FOURTH in the nation among all colleges and universities supplying Black applicants to medical school and eighth in the nation in the number of Black applications accepted. Since then, Oakwood College has ranked among the top 15-20 colleges in the nation in supplying Black applicants to medical schools.

Emerson A. Cooper,
Chair

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH, COMMUNICATION MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES, AND ART

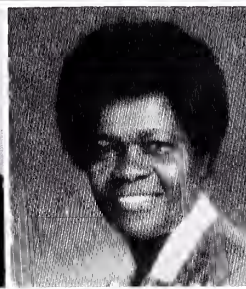

The Department of English seeks to develop effective programs for training all students to read with speed and comprehension, to speak and write clearly, and to listen and recall correctly. The Department also seeks to enable majors as well as non-majors to perceive that literature is important because it is a source of vital insights into the problems and achievements of men — ancient and modern. Beyond and above these objectives, the Department deals with languages from a Christian perspective of language as purity, kindness, and honesty.

Ph.D., Washington
State University, 1974.
On staff since 1977.

DEPARTMENT OF HOME ECONOMICS

The philosophy of the College, which emphasizes the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers of the student, is an integral part of the curriculum of Home Economics. The ultimate goal of the Department is to provide educational experiences for males and females in the broad areas of Home Economics. Special emphasis is placed upon preparing students to relate to the economic, social, and cultural conditions that affect the home and society in a changing world. The Department endeavors to instill in its students an understanding of food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, human development, consumer economics, family living, parent education, and human management.

M.Ed., Alabama
A&M University,
1981.
On staff since
1977.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS AND PHYSICS

Mathematics may be classified according to two general categories, pure mathematics and applied mathematics. Pure mathematics is very abstrast, and proof (in the sense of a deductive system) is its most important concern. On the other hand, applied mathematics has arisen out of attempts to solve problems in the natural sciences and, in particular, the physical sciences. This department proposes to present these two points of view as a combined and unified whole. The courses offered provide the necessary mathematical skills to allow students to pursue graduate work in mathematics, computer science, and engineering; teach in the secondary school; work in industry and government; and use mathematics as a tool in the physical, social, life and management sciences.

John A. Blake,
Chair
Professor of Mathematics
Ed.D., University
of Tennessee, 1978.
On staff since
1964.

Kathleen H. Dobbins
Assistant Professor
of Mathematics
M.S., Purdue
University, 1967.
On staff since
1967.

Joseph Jeries
Assistant Professor
of Math &
Computer Science
M.S., Andrews
University, 1989.
On staff since
1988.

Gracie F. Monroe
Assistant Professor
of Mathematics
M.Ed., Alabama
A&M University,
1979.
On staff since
1983.

Lewis Thompson
Professor of Physics
Ph.D., Rice
University, 1954.
On staff since
1977.

DEPARTMENT OF NURSING

The Department of Nursing offers the associate (AS) and bachelor (BS) of science degrees. The AS program will prepare students to successfully complete the national licensure examination and to function as a registered nurse in hospitals, nursing homes, physician offices and other structured health care agencies.

The BS program prepares the registered nurse for professional nursing practice in a variety of settings such as the community, industry, government, hospitals and clinics. The graduate of this program is also prepared for graduate study in nursing.

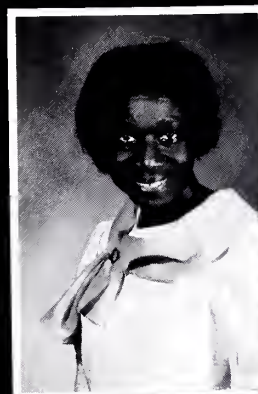

Lydia Andrews
Assistant Professor of
Nursing M.S.N.,
University of Alabama, 1986. On
staff since 1986.

Sheila P. Davis, Chair
Assistant Professor of
Nursing M.S.N.,
University of Alabama, 1984. On
staff since 1991.

Naomi Bullard
Assistant Professor of
Nursing M.S.N., Loma
Linda University, 1976.
On staff since 1983.

Caryll Dormer
Associate Professor of
Nursing Ph.D.,
Vanderbilt University,
1988. On staff since
1973-1983 and 1988.

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

The purpose of the Psychology Department is to provide a liberal arts, undergraduate foundation with a basic understanding of the principles, facts, approaches, and methods in psychology. The goal of the department is to aid the student (1) in acquiring knowledge and developing skills for entry level professional service, (2) in preparing for entry in to graduate programs, (3) in receiving a Christian perspective of psychology, and (4) in understanding self and others better in an appreciation of the origin, nature, and process of individual differences from the psychological viewpoint.

Belvia Matthews,
Chair
Associate Professor of Psychology
Ph.D., Michigan State
University, 1977.
On staff since 1977.

Luetilla Carter
Assistant Professor of Psychology
Ed.S., Alabama A&M
University, 1979.
On staff since 1973.

Magna James
Assistant Professor of Psychology
Ph.D., Ohio State
University, 1989.
On staff since 1989.

DEPARTMENT OF RELIGION & THEOLOGY

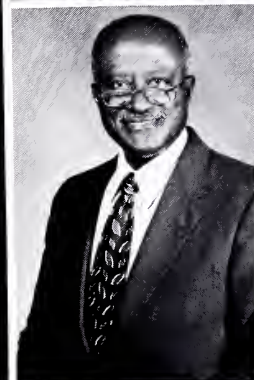

The Ministerial Theology major aims toward pastoral/evangelistic ministries and considers college as preparatory to further training at the SDA Theological Seminary of Andrews University where admission requires a minimal 2.50 grade point average. The RELIGION major follows a course of study specially individualized to help prepare for such Christian professions as Bible Worker Instructorship, Foreign Missions, Hospital/Military Chaplaincy, Layperson (Church) Leadership, Literature Ministry, and teaching in specialized areas of theology while also preparing the student to add a Christian dimension to RELIGIOUS EDUCATION for classroom teaching on the Elementary and Secondary levels with teacher certification or administration in Christian schools.

Mervyn A. Warren,
Chair
Professor of Religion
D.Min., Vanderbilt
Divinity School, 1975.
On staff since 1961.

John Lavender
Assistant Professor of
Religion M.A.,
Andrews University,
1974. On staff 1975-
1980 and since 1984.

James H. Melancon
Associate Professor of
Religion M.A.,
Andrews University,
1955; Doctoral Studies.
On staff since 1976.

Lance Shand
Assistant Professor of Religion M.P.S., New York Theological Seminary, 1977. On staff since 1977.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

The Department of Music provides a challenging, professional, intellectual and Christian environment for the serious study of the musical arts. The music faculty desires and requires that every student enrolled in the department, acquire the knowledge to understand and appreciate music as one of the greatest intellectual and aesthetic achievements of the human mind.

Lucille Lacy, Chair
Associate Professor of Music
Ph.D., Ohio State
University, 1985.
On staff since 1971.

Shirley Beary
Professor of Music
D.M.A., Southwestern
Theological Seminary,
1977.
On staff since 1984.

Eurydice Osterman
Associate Professor of Music
D.M.A., University of
Alabama, 1988.
On staff since 1975.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WORK

The primary objective of the Social Work Program is to prepare students for beginning practice in the Social Work profession. The core curriculum and field practicum provides the student with knowledge, skills and values necessary to perform specific tasks and services at the entry level. The program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.

Students having a degree in Social Work may find employment in public and private agencies, such as Child Welfare, Nursing Homes, Senior Citizens, Hospitals, Day Care, Children's Homes, Correctional facilities, Mental Health and others. Also employment may be found in public relations with public and private organizations, administrative areas where relationship skills are valuable, personnel areas, where a knowledge of human relations is essential, and/or research with various organizations.

Juliaette W. Phillips,
Chair
Associate Professor of
Social Work
M.S.W., University of

When students get together there's always fun and laughter in the air.

The International Food Festival was an activity enjoyed by all who attended. Students, Faculty and Staff enjoyed the rare opportunity to sampling foods from countries such as China, Jamaica, Italy, France, Germany, Mexico, and Portugal.

ON A MISSION

A wholesome program of social activities is planned by the Director of Student Activities in consultation with the Coordinating Council of Campus Organizations composed of faculty and students. Social programs are sponsored during the year by clubs, classes, and organizations.

ACTIVITIES & EVENTS

The time is now. Irvin Daphnis, one of the speakers during the tent services, urged each individual present to take a stand for Christ.

Spiritual beginnings. The 1992 school year was launched with high spiritual emphasis through a tent crusade. This was done through joint efforts of the USM Religious Vice, Trey Hayden, Chaplain Cox, and Pastor E.C. Ward of the Oakwood College Church.

Paul Williamson

Songs of joy. Oakwood College is known for its beautiful music. This tradition continued when Robin Gillineau and Kelli Taylor combined their voices in a lovely musical rendition at an evening tent service.

Taking a stand. Each night hundreds of students took a stand for Jesus. Steve Blackburn's sermon prompted many to choose Christ and forsake the way of Satan.

Willing to serve. Jamal Hamilton was one of many program participants who led in song service, prayer, and scripture each night.

Absorbing all. Several students listen attentively. Their concentration is fully on the spiritual emphasis displayed before them.

Singing praises. Melinda Dawes, Geraldine Mallory, and Tina Riley lift their voices in honor to God. Their music inspired many towards a closer relationship with Christ.

Honor with harmony. Six gentlemen sing with harmony that captivated the audience's attention. The pleasant tunes were sang before the evening's sermon.

The Elks Oratorical award-winning orator Russell-McCloud is President of Russell-McCloud and Associates, a motivational speaking and training professional association, based in Atlanta, Georgia. She is a graduate of Howard University Law School, completed intensive study in law at Harvard University and served as Chief, Complaints Branch, Broadcast Bureau, senior managing attorney for the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C.

Russell-McCloud is certified to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, District of Columbia and the Indiana Bar Associations.

This Indianapolis, Indiana native is consistently saluted for a job well done as she holds over 25 keys to American cities. Notably her noted speech, "If Not You, Who, If Not Now, When?" is recorded in the Congressional Record of the United States (H 3661) May 14, 1980.

Russell-McCloud has served as a keynote speaker for the Jennings Scholar program, Jennings Foundation. She has toured colleges and universities under the sponsorship of the Adolph Coors Company and the Black Collegian Magazine. She is listed with speaker's bureaus, American Program Bureau and Program Corporation of America.

The National Association of American Universities and Land Grant colleges and the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education (NAFEO) has honored her as being an outstanding alumna of her alma mater Kentucky State University. Her board affiliations include The Links, Inc., Georgia Association of Minority Entrepreneurs and ACHOR, a center for the homeless. She is the past Supreme Parliamentarian of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. Her memberships include numerous professional and civic organizations. The Links Inc., the National Bar Associations, Life Member NAACP, National Urban League, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

After the program, Amanda Pitt from Inside Oakwood interviews Paul Monk. He along with others commented on how much they enjoyed the presentation.

Paul Williamson

Alana Mitchell and Cheryl Wilcher, dressed in black and white, greeted and seated the audience as they arrived.

Patricia Russell-McCloud, professional orator, motivated Oakwood students to "wake up" and use their talents to be the best that they can be. After her presentation, Judge Russell-McCloud took the time to talk with students and give autographs.

Excellent. Dr. Lucille Lacy explains how impressed she was with Judge Russell-McCloud's presentation. She along with many others were tremendously overwhelmed by the word's spoken.

Liston Monroe

Paul Williamson

Thank you. Students and faculty show their appreciation to Judge Russell-McCloud for sharing her inspiring words of motivation.

Liston Munroe

Thomas Felder, USM President is interviewed by Inside Oakwood after the program. Thomas was so deeply moved by the orator that he seems to be speechless.

Everyone can do something. The class of ninety-six continued the Oakwood College tradition of talent. Those who were brave entered Star Search 92 and displayed their talent to the student body. The audience was dazzled with entertainment through vocals, instrumentals, comedies, and dramas.

Liston Munroe

Tough Decision. Thomas Felder, Karen Byfield, Adel Lewis, and Clynt Myrie were the special panel of judges for Star Search. They were faced with tough decisions from the numerous talent displayed among the contestants.

Man in charge. Bruce Graham, master of ceremony for the freshman follies, captivated the audience with jokes and his sense of humor

Say cheese. Hundreds of students gathered to witness the talent of the new freshmen class.

Pure magic. Tracy was the winner of Star Search 92. She won a price of one hudnred dollars in cash.

Look up on stage. Spectators of the Star Search contest are entranced by the talent displayed on stage.

Welcome. While the audience is eager for the program to begin, Earl Pickett, USM Social Vice, entertains the crowd with his charm.

Isn't it over yet? Members of the social vice committee having a ball or sitting down on the job?

Public notice. Just a few words from our sponsor, Duracel. They keep going and going even when the joke is over.

Who's next? At the Dutch booth everything was sweet. Various cakes and pastries were offered. Everyone was in a frenzy to taste the delicious desserts, but you had to wait your turn.

Taking it easy. "Um, this is tasty. I wonder if there's anymore." This is the best way to enjoy a delicious meal.

If only you knew what you were missing. There's just one activity that most Oakwood students never miss, the International Food Festival. It's like Thanksgiving in September.

Table for two. "I don't think I could eat another bite if I tried, I'm stuffed."

America

America the beautiful. Students were able to sample a large variety of foods from around the world. Countries included Mexico, Spain, Italy, Germany, Jamaica, Japan, China, Sweden, and America.

Food heaven. Are there thirds? Students were able to eat until their stomachs were content. Rayfield Howard is almost to the point of explosion.

We're not finished yet. Edwin Lightbourne and Joseph McKenzie were a couple of the official taste testers at the food festival.

Umm, umm . . . Good? Kenneth looks like he's enjoying the taco salad that was served at the Mexican booth.

Please not now. I am sure Jason agrees that the worst time to take a picture is when you're eating.

Mr. Thurman Davis, Assistant Regional Administrator for the United States General Service Administration, was the speaker during the Career Fair chapel.

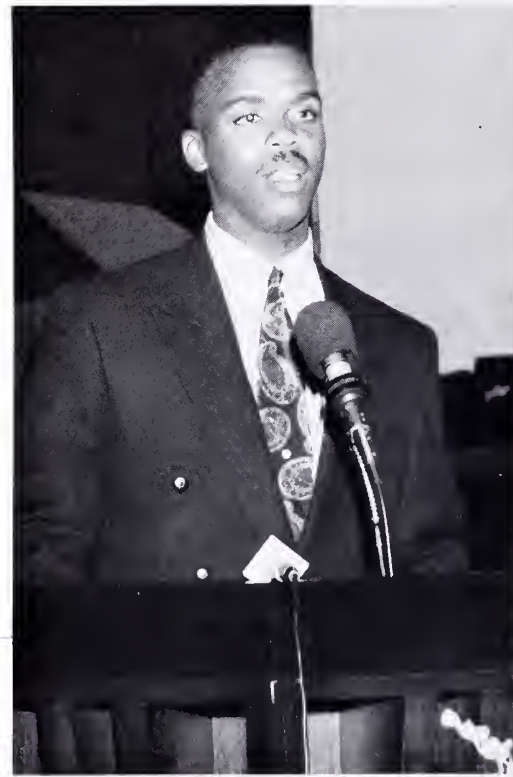

Students present at the Career Fair chapel had the advantage of hearing some motivational tips from student intern recruiters.

For the first time, the Office of Career Planning and Placement gave recognition to an outstanding alumni. John C. Smith, a 1989 Social Work graduate was honored during the Alumna Spotlight. He is the director of Sponsored Program at Clark-Atlanta University.

The platform guest for the Career Fair chapel included both students, and faculty and staff. The music for the morning was beautifully rendered by the Aeolians.

A well planned program. "I was impressed with the students." These were just a few of the comments made by the twenty-nine private and public organizations and graduate school recruiters. Pictured are a few recruiters waiting to be introduced at the Career Fair program.

Attorney Lynn Sherrod, Assistant District Attorney for Madison County, was the speaker for Career Fair chapel. Attorney Sherrod was enlightening as she shared her struggles to achieve her goal to become the first African-American female district attorney for this county.

Is the pizza here yet? A group of students anxiously await the arrival of the pizza at the skating rink; others skate to pass the time.

The pizza is here, but where's the party? Myla McCoy, Tangy Armstrong, and Dave seem to be enjoying the pizza. How could anyone resist?

Friends. These students enjoy each others company. Waiting for pizza isn't that bad if you have a friend to wait with.

Pizza? Brian, I thought we were coming to skate. I didn't know this was a pizza party, but I'm sure glad to be here."

Saturday night social. These two wonder whether they should just eat pizza or put on a pair of skates and join in on the fun.

Paul Williamson

Pizza, pizza. Little Caesar's provides the pizza for the Saturday night social. "The pizza is here, so let's eat!"

The pizza is good. Sherine Brown isn't worried about anything else but her one slice of pizza.

Paul Williamson

Good evening everyone. These students don't seem to be interested in the pizza. They're just very happy to be on the scene.

I'm coming. Earl Pickett is finally ready to hand out the pizza to the hungry students.

You said pizza? These two wonder when the pizza is going to arrive. "I've been waiting for thirty minutes and I haven't seen any yet."

Believe it or not. Is it all gone? Erika Cain can't believe the pizza is all gone. Oakwood students seem to take food very seriously.

Keeping up with the line. James Brookings is enjoying the entertainment of the Calipso band and the food.

Tea anyone? The British Club performs a comedy to add a little cultural flavor to the evening.

Friends forever. Lisa Mosby and Sheila Richardson, both enjoy the evening's activity. "Wouldn't miss it for the world."

I didn't get it. Students watched a comedy performed by the British Club. The play features a student going home after attending college.

Really, the food is good. Razonda Bell enjoys her fruits and quite content for the evening.

STUDENT WEEK OF PRAYER

Oakwood College was revived as ten students preached the gospel at the annual Student Week of Prayer, January 19-25. The theme for the week was "I Shall Wear a Crown" with the theme text of Revelation 2:10 which says, "Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

Each night the sanctuary was filled with students, faculty and staff, and community guests who anxiously awaited to hear the preached words of God. The week was concluded when forty students gave their hearts and lives to Christ in baptism. Afterwards, they were given the right hand of fellowship from the congregation. God blessed. Photos by Paul Williamson and Liston Munroe

On February 23, 1992, the United Student Movement led the student body on a journey to the Motherland that exhibited all the splendor and beauty of Africa. Oakwood College experienced a new culture and a lost heritage.

The USM introduced the student body to great leaders like Mansa Musa, Amenhotep IV, Tenkamenin, Haile Selassie, and many others who exemplified the origin of Black leadership. Unfortunately, not every student could survive the journey. Was the heritage too rich? Or was the intellect too shallow? Who knows? But the survival went to the fittest. The surviving multitude came out of the banquet as sons and daughters of kings of Africa.

The journey was brought to us by the Historical Arts Theatre, Inc. and some very talented members of the student body. In between the journey the audience was dazzled by the incredibly talented acappella group Last Appeal. All praise was given to the Lord for such a rich heritage and the wonderful gift of music. Photos by Nancy Rutledge, Anthony Wallen, and Paul Williamson.

THE OAKWOOD COLLEGE/ PRE-ALUMNI COUNCIL

The Pre-Alumni Council of Oakwood College is one of the most active councils among the 41 schools that participates in the UNCF campaign. There are over 50,000 students enrolled in UNCF schools. Over 50% of the students enrolled in these colleges comes from families with low income.

Our Pre-Alumni Council is proud to be involved in a campaign which generates funds to help supplement capital improvements, students scholarships, faculty development, curriculum development, endowments and many other areas of need.

Within the past two years the Oakwood College Pre-Alumni Council has raised over $70,000 to support the UNCF campaign. Under the current leadership of Ms. Beverly Johnson, Pre-Alumni Advisor and Ms. Regina Clark, Pre-Alumni President, there are presently 35 active members involved in fundraising.

September 1991 the Pre-Alumni Council hosted its first Miss Hometown USA Pageant. This event was specifically aimed at introducing our freshmen young ladies to the Oakwood campus. The young ladies modeled casual attire and Sabbath attire, as well as giving their own points of view of the history of Oakwood and how they would improve their society. This event left standing room only in the auditorium of Moran Hall that night. Photos by Paul Williamson, Liston Monroe, and Erin Coleman

FOUNDATION OF THE NATION

The Men of Distinction, founded in October of 1984, has as its main purpose the development of the whole man. This encompasses the academic, cultural, social, and spiritual growth of all of its members. The Men of Distinction aims to develop an encourage leadership skills, to prepare members for service in the church, the community and the work force.

The members of Men of Distinction are diverse in talents, culture, and academic majors. Many maintain various executive offices in other major clubs on campus.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Home Economics majors are girls who matriculate into universities and colleges to learn how to cook and sew. This philosophy is as true as to say that "all blacks eat watermelon." Although it is true that many Blacks do eat watermelon, assuredly many do not. I learned how to cook through the same avenues as many others and that is through trial and error. However, my Home Economics background in nutrition did teach me about food science.

Well, what is Home Economics all about? Our focus has expanded beyond a professional field concerned with helping people to live in the home. Today our focus is on all aspects of the cultural environment. Graduates of our program contribute their expertise to business, community, government, marketing associations and educational institutions. Perhaps some even know how to make a peanut butter n' jelly sandwich.

Therefore, our Home Economics Club is a congenial group focused at preparing students to be professionals, as well as, contributing to the community. This year we have assisted the homeless, worked with Project aids, educated people regarding wholesome relationships and tutored disadvantaged students.

JUNIOR CLASS AUCTION

"Going once, twice, three times, sold!" The momentum was rising as one after another valet was being sold. This event, which was sponsored by the Junior class, was very successful. The prices ranged from two to twenty-two dollars.

Some students stated that the auction was too similar to slavery for their tastes, others bubbled with the joy of being able to spend a day with the most attractive male or female of their choice. The price was right for most and no price was too high for others. If slavery brought as much laughter and warmth as the Junior class auction, it would have never ended . . . unless people ran out of money. Photos by Liston Monroe and Erin Coleman.

ΕΦΔ

Epsilon Phi Delta Scientific Society is an academic club whose sole purpose is to promote science in the hopes of maintaining and increasing the number of minorities pursuing careers in medicine and other related scientific professions. This is accomplished through informative, educational, and practical programs. In addition to the career oriented programs, two consecration services are held during the school year. In addition to the scheduled programs, the Science Club makes way for fun as well. They have gone caving, white-water rafting, hiking, and have had various socials, including a Caribbean Rotie party.

The Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics departments have greatly contributed to the success of the Science Club. They have rendered invaluable assistance, particularly by the way of the sponsors, Mrs. Ava Rivers and Dr. Kenneth Lahing. The Science Club President, Andre Clarke, was quoted saying, "Epsilon Phi Delta Scientific Society has come a long way over the past few years, and will continue to get better with time."

LADIES OF EXCELLENCE

In the Fall of 1987 a ladies service club was established under the direction of Walter Redick Jr. Four young ladies were selected as founders: Joy Walker, Carla Byrd, Zandra Armstrong, and Kimberlin Carlisle. Through diligence and dedication, their efforts have produced a well organized and successful campus establishment.

The Ladies of Excellence is an organization composed of young women who have united together to share their lives and experiences during their college years. It is a social and service organization whose members have common goals. The goals of the club are to promote excellence through Christian standards in academics and fellowship; to provide a substitute organization for civic-minded Christian ladies to engage in; to assist young ladies in achieving Christian fellowship, developing trust and dedication; and provide leadership skills which will prepare each member for service in the community and in the work force.

DYNAMIC PRAISE

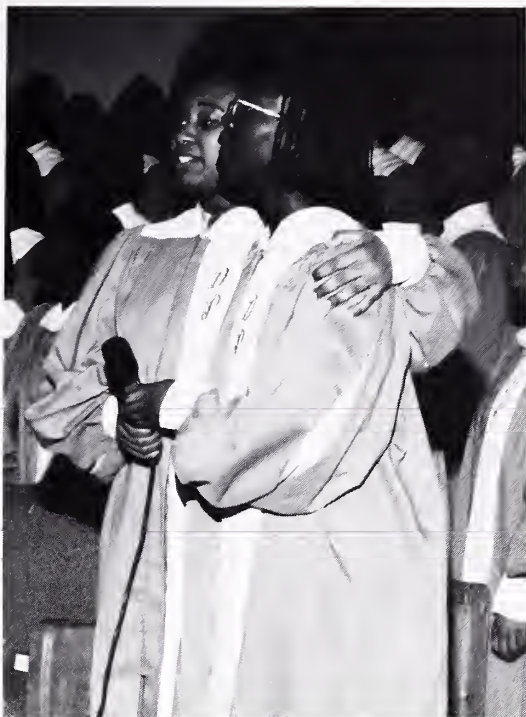

Dynamic Praise, formerly known as the "Freshman Choir" was formed in the Fall of 1988 under the direction of Lawrence Moody, John Ramsey, Brian Clifton, and Owen Simons. During that first quarter, the choir sang at AYS on various occasions and were frequently the guest choir at New Life Seventh-day Adventist Church. The first major trip was to Birmingham, Alabama in May of 1989.

Since the choir's humble beginnings, lots of changes have occurred. The choir is currently under the directorship of Owen Simons. Dynamic Praise consists presently of 90 members from all classifications. The sponsors are Leslie Willis, Lizette Willis, and George and Lynda Bartholomew.

The choir has traveled to numerous places, namely Cleveland, Ohio, Toronto, Canada, Columbus, Ohio, Birmingham, Alabama, Memphis, Tennessee and St. Louis, Missouri. Future trips will include Atlantic Union College in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, Bahamas, Bermuda, England, Tallahassee, Florida, and Texas. Photo by Fred Pullins.

THE VISION QUEST BUFFALO SOLDIERS

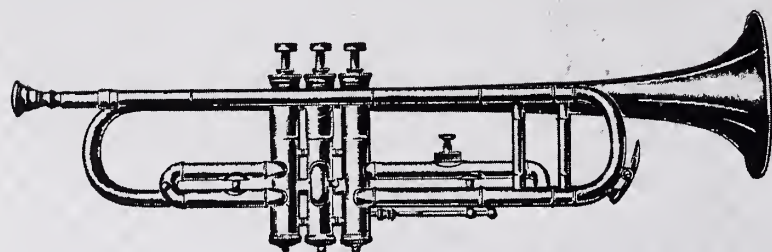

Vision Quest is a private corporation that contracts with public agencies to provide programs for troubled teenagers. Juveniles are referred to VisionQuest primarily through juvenile courts, probation departments and social service agencies. Founded in 1973 by correction professionals frustrated with the lack of success of traditional juvenile treatment methods, VisionQuest offers programs that allow troubled youngsters an opportunity to learn self-discipline, independence and respect for others in an atmosphere without cells, barred windows or controlling drugs.

The VisionQuest Buffalo Soldiers march to pay tribute to the hundreds of thousands of African Americans who served this country heroically in the armed forces. These young people recreate the historic 9th and 10th Calvary Soldiers, nicknamed the Buffalo Soldiers by Native Americans.

Ranging in age from 13 to 19, these youngsters study the history of Black Americans who patrolled stage routes, mapped most of West Texas and chased Billy the Kid, Geronimo, and Pancho Villa. Part of the process of becoming a VisionQuest Buffalo soldier includes riding on horseback, often over some of the same trails used by the original Buffalo Soldiers. During their 10 years history the VisionQuest Buffalo Soldiers have made hundreds of presentations across the country. From schools, parades, performances at the U.S. Capitol and acting as Honor Guard for Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Colin Powell, these young people make a positive impact wherever they go.

Carrying a strong anti-violence/anti-drug message through performances before children in schools across the country, these "Soldiers of Peace" blend the best of the past with hope for the future. This special program is also designed to pass African American History and build pride through accomplishment.

THE NAMES PROJECT

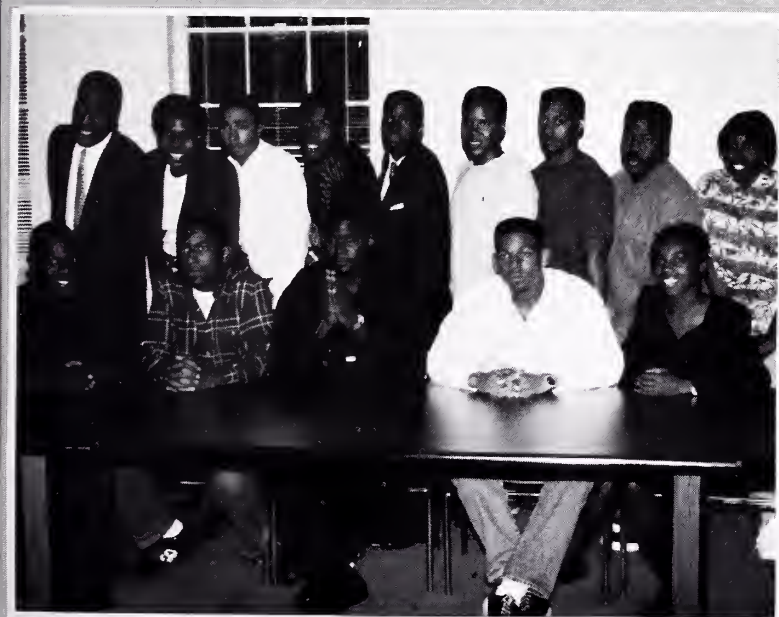

A committee spear headed by members of MPACT, Minorities for the Prevention of AIDS Through Choices and Training, brought the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt to Huntsville from January 31-February 2, 1992. 800 of the 15,000+ panels were displayed at the Von Braun Civic Center. The Quilt is poignant symbol of love to the memory of those who have died from AIDS. The Quilt is an international humanitarian project that was nominated for the Nobel Prize in 1989, two years after it was begun.

The committee was made up of several Oakwood College Alumni, including the chairperson. Over 3,000 visitors saw the Quilt and over 300 volunteers participated, many of whom were Oakwood College students, faculty and staff. The United Student Movement and Oakwood College donated funds that helped finance the project. (Photos by Paul Williamson)

DELTA SIGMA PSI

Wade Hall, the residence for upper class women, has proven to be a wonderful and comfortable place to reside. The ladies are appreciative of this new facility.

The dorm club, Delta Sigma Psi, planned many activities and projects for the residents. The first activity was Everybody's Birthday Party. This activity was well received. A cake table for every month of the year was set up. A large cake was made by Gail Thomas, dorm Social-Vice, and Mr. Bell, Director of Custodial. Everyone went wild when one of our handsome males burst out of the cake. The evening was fun for all.

"WE ARE THE WORLD"

"They come from the east and west; they come from the north and south" is a fond refrain that is often sung, but at Oakwood it is very factual that the students do indeed hail from the east and west, north and south.

Approximately 10% of the student body is international and they represent 28-30 countries, from Antigua in the West Indies to Zimbabwe, Eastern Africa.

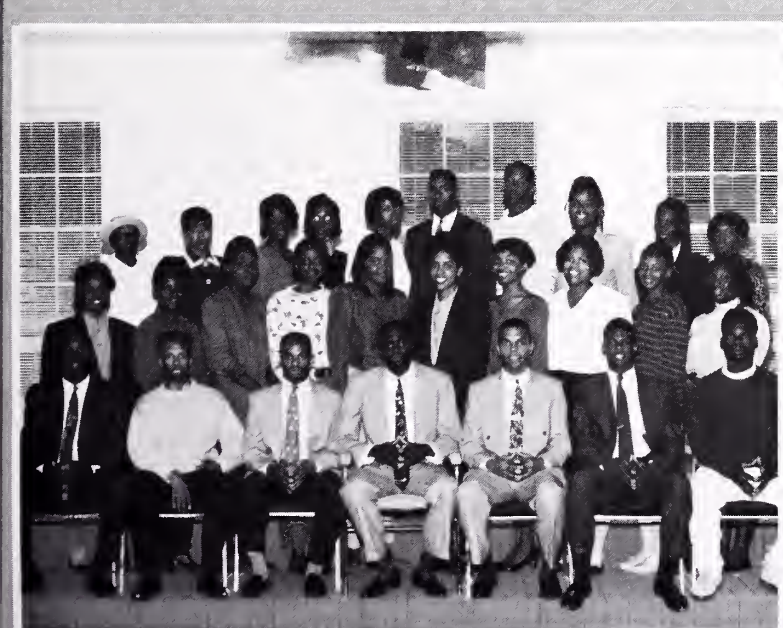

For the past 6 years, the office of International/Government Affairs has sponsored an International Expo which features the campus family and our international members in the community. The sharing specifically includes the displays of artifacts and music from around the world.

THE MUSEUM EXHIBIT ROOM

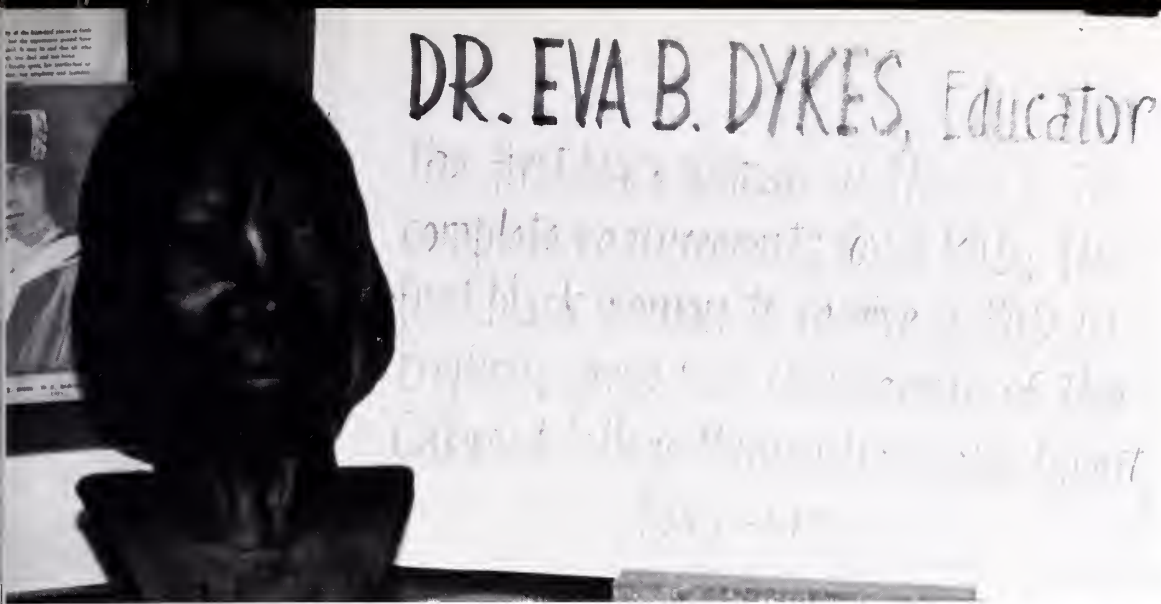

Located in the west wing of the Eva B. Dykes Library, the Museum of Black SDA History retains holdings dating back to 1896. Established in the school year of '72-'73, the museum, an extension of the Archives, displays a rare collection of photographs, documents, and artifacts as they relate to Oakwood College and black SDA history. Foremost among the valued remnants include artifacts from the famed Morning Star Steamboat, a boat used as a floating home for James Edson White and headquarters for his education and missionary work among the Negro people in the South ... the star, the bell (which was rung to announce each lesson period), and a chair from the boat's chapel. Also housed are photographs of the first 16 students, the institution's presidents, its founders, its faculty, the Eva B. Dykes Collection, and the personal artifact collection of P.W. Ridgeway's world travels. Photos by Anthony Wallen.

THE ESSENCE OF ARTISTRY

A spectrum is defined as a series of colors formed when white light is dispersed into its components. The Art Society of Oakwood College defines a spectrum differently than most people because its club members realize the elements involved in artistry. The Holy Bible depicts the love of God as a bright white light called glory. The members of the Spectrum Art Club believe that God will use their talents for His glorification, and every aspect of their being is a component of His love. Members of Spectrum use the mastery techniques of the fine arts to relate, express, and enhance their Christian experience and encourage others to share their experience through observance of their work. AYS

Led by God and aided by the students of Oakwood College, the Adventist Youth Society (AYS) is designed to spiritually motivate, mentally challenge, and socially uplift the student body and community guests each Friday evening. The program format includes vibrant musicals, practical skits, motivational speakers, informative films, and other enlightening services.

Willing, Succeeding, and Black (WSB) began in the friendly confines of the OC campus in the Spring of 1989. What started with the vision of Derrick Green and three others has blossomed into the vision of 50 others who seek to better their school and community. Since its inception, WSB has traveled far and wide to present a message of hope to people of all ages.

WSB offers a variety of outreach activities which are all geared toward service, self-improvement, and socialization. Some of these activities are drama, tutoring, motivational speaking, and one-to-one peer counseling. The goal of WSB is best summed by the words of Sikto Oture: "Go forth, ye African student, and liberate your people, for you and your children's future are at stake. Idleness is for the traitor. Neutrality is for the weak and uncommitted." Photos by Anthony Wallen.

Hope of Liberty

Alas! and am I born for this,
To wear this slavish chain?
Deprived of all created bliss,
Through hardship, toil, and pain?

How long have I in bondage
lain,
And anguished to be free!
Alas! and must I still complain,
Deprived of liberty

Basketball has proven to be the most popular sport among students. Each Thursday and Saturday night the gym is filled with students who come to cheer on their favorite team to victory.

Flag football, volleyball, softball, tennis, and skating are just a few of the many recreational activities that students can participate in during their free time.

ON A MISSION

GOAL

To provide a health and physical education program along with recreational activities that will give an understanding of and encourage proper care of the body. Consistency in the teaching of good health habits is carried throughout the College's food and recreational program.

ATHLETES

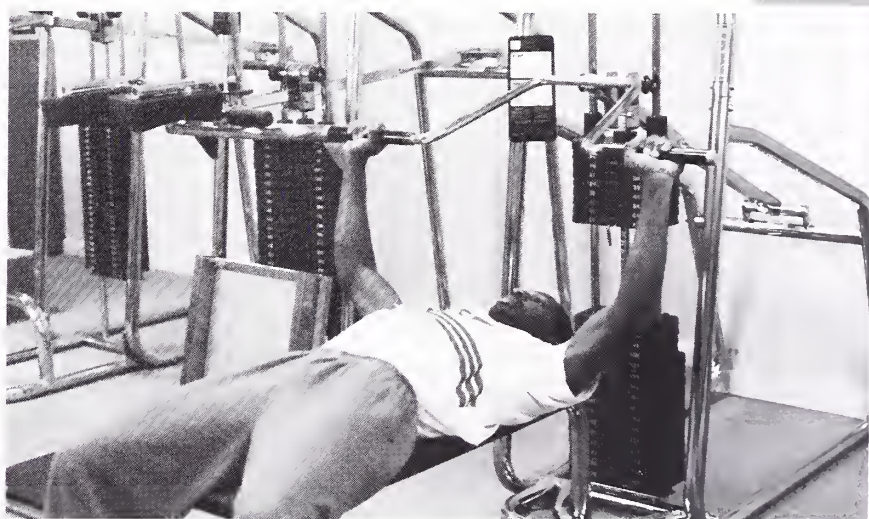

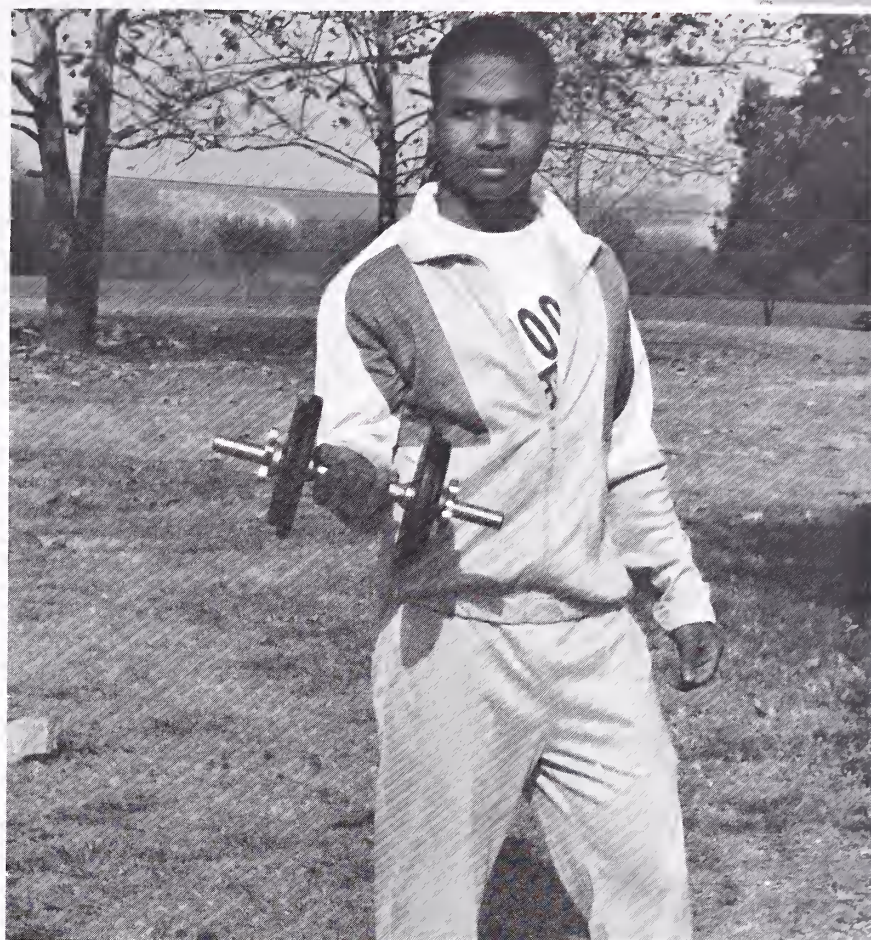

PUMPING IRON

Whenever students need some kind of physical activity, they go to the weight room. The weight room offers relief from the hustle and bustle of the classroom and studies.

This year the Physical Education Department purchased two additional machines, a squat rack and a bench press station. Some students have never set foot inside the weight room, but they are encouraged to attend by others who do.

There are many who look as if they were born to lift weights; others let the weights lift them. Whatever category they fall under the weight room is the place to be whether it's morning, afternoon, or evening.

PUMP IT UP!

MEN'S FOOTBALL

Flag football in the fall has been a tradition at Oakwood since the 70's. The players are different, but the spirit is the same. There have been days when dedicated players of this sport have played in 30 and 40 degree weather. This is determination to be the best, and that is all one can ask for. The championship team is pictured second from the top in the center. Congratulations!

WOMENS FOOTBALL

BEAUTY AND BRAWN

This year in sports has been a very exciting and fast paced year for the women's football teams. In addition to mere playing time, they have been given added publicity and recognition. The women have been an integral part of Oakwood's sports program. Whether spectators, cheerleaders or actual players in the game, the women have shown their team spirit throughout the sports season. Much more can be expected in the coming seasons.

TOP: Even though the girls play football every year the question is asked, "Why do all the guys call this fun?"

ABOVE: "Do you like my uniform?"

RIGHT: "Fast as fast can be, you can't catch me!"

BASKETBALL

This year the "Fighting Prophet" mascot was adopted by the Oakwood Athletic Department. Throughout the year A and B League Basketball Teams have been very competitive. The international students, married students, Bell Tower Club, and other organizations formed teams, and they all performed at high levels.

- 1: The yellow team gets set for a rebound.
- 2: Robert Henley goes for a two-pointer.
- 3: Number 4, Brian Mckinney, is famous for his dunks.
- 4: "I'm open, I'm open!"
- 5: Some serious hang-time!

RACQUETBALL

In the spring of 1991 the racquetball court was completed, but it was not used until the fall. Not many students knew where the racquetball court was located, and some did not know that the school even had one. The racquetball court is located in the front of the skating rink.

The racquetball facility has a balcony where spectators can view the games in air-conditioned comfort. There are two courts that are suitable for tournament play.

TENNIS

GAME

There are many choices for recreational activities on the OC campus, and students take full advantage of all of them. The Student Center is frequented by students, faculty, and staff alike. Some come for a break between studies; others come just for fun.

Video games like Centipede, Galaga, Ms. Pac Man, and Gyruss are run a close second place to the big TV screen in the TV room. During the day any challenging visitor who changes the channel from cartoons is instantly mobbed and forced to change it back. OC students are also fond of intellectual shows like Tale Spin and Rescue Rangers. The Oprah Winfrey show is also a favorite of many students.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The girl's basketball schedule this year proved to be just as exciting and challenging as the guy's. Most of the games, which were held on Saturday nights and Sunday evenings, were well attended.

All teams proved to be dedicated to seeing their team perform at its best level. Some of the girls make trips to the gym in the mornings before classes and in the evenings to perfect their shots and other skills.

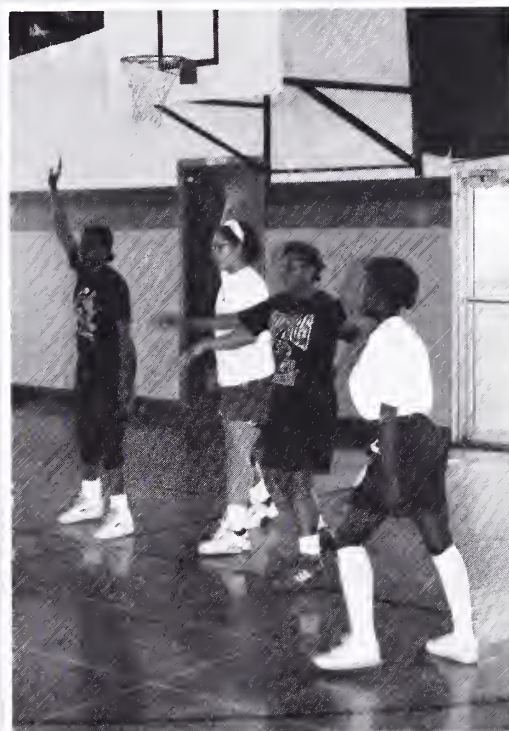

The Black and the Orange team were this year's rivals, with Tracey Coleman playing for the Orange and Lisa Murray for the Black. Lisa's three-pointers were unstoppable and Tracey's superb passing and shooting led her team to victory on many occasions. All players gave their best to their teams.

Naja Hunt, like many other students, are many times astounded by the beauty of the Oakwood College campus.

Oakwood is a place where natural beauty can be found in the trees, the flowers, and most of all, in the people. With its attractive buildings, Oakwood is "the place where loveliness keeps house."

Success To You,
Renee L. Salter And
The Class Of 1992!

One step away could lead to triumph as you press forward toward your mark.
One step ahead may have brought the victory though the odds spelled defeat.
One step forward might have brought success and the courage to continue the race.
One step backward should be the warning that two steps must precede.
One step at any time could be all that you and I need.

Experience the world with us

(and be ready for it too)

At AUC, we value the learning that goes beyond our solid academics and highly-charged spiritual atmosphere—preparation for the world after college through on-campus experience.

With students from 25 states and 49 countries and half of our professors coming from international backgrounds, much of your education here will ride on who you meet and what you learn from them.

◆ We like this—seeing people learn from each other.

◆ And you'll find, like our graduates, that you'll be well-equipped to face the world because so much of it is already here for you. Call or write us today.

If You Think You Can

*If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you like to win, and don't think you can,
It's almost a cinch you won't.*

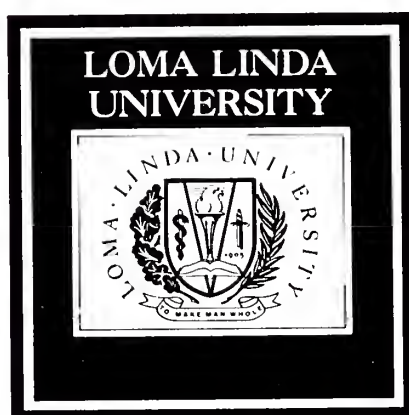

*If you think you'll lose, you're lost,
For out in the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.
Full many a race is lost
Ere even a step is run,
And many a coward fails,
Ere even his work is begun.*

*Think big and your deeds will grow,
Think small and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can and you will —
It's all in the state of mind.*

*If you think you are outclassed; you are;
You've got to think high and rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.*

*Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But, sooner or later, the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can!*

Let Blacks administer their own college? They said, "No."
 Pay Black pastors the same as White pastors? They said, "No."
 Eat at the same lunch table? "No!" The time had come for a revolution in Adventist race relations, and W. W. Fordham stood boldly on the front lines. He recalls the intriguing confrontations that caused each "No" to become a "Yes." Paperback, 141 pages. US$8.95, Cdn$11.20.

GIFTED HANDS

Looking at the zero on his test paper, Ben Carson thought he was the dumbest kid in school. But this ghetto youth left behind failing grades and a murderous temper to become director of pediatric neurosurgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Read this story of a mother who knew when to be tough and a young man who took hold of the power of God. Hardcover, 232 pages. US$12.95, Cdn$16.20.

THE WIT AND WISDOM OF CHARLES BRADFORD

Spend some time with a great leader. Listen to him in the pulpit as he moves the audience with his powerful eloquence and polished wit. Hear him in private conversation as he tells favorite stories, remembers important people in his life, and shares what he's learned in Adventist leadership. Paperback, two 60-minute cassettes. Only US$9.95, Cdn$12.45.

THE UNKNOWN PROPHET

Three people received visions at the time of the Great Disappointment. The first was a Black preacher. William Foy has been lost in obscurity for more than a century. Now Delbert Baker uncovers the facts about Foy's ministry and visions. Hardcover, 160 pages. US$14.95, Cdn$18.70.

ANOTHER AMAZING BREAKTHROUGH

Morning After Morning.

Every time the sun breaks through on another Florida morning, it's easy to think of miracles. It's easy to feel the warmth, excitement and joy of life.

And every dawn in the Sunshine State brings another day of breakthrough care — another day of challenges and heart-warming rewards — at the largest Adventist hospital in the world.

THE OAKWOOD EXPERIENCE

I came to Oakwood to do my studies.
Along with many friends and buddies;
And found an atmosphere of love
That could come only from above.

I took a walk around the campus
And what I saw was marvelous.
Everyone was just so busy
It made me almost dizzy.

The next morning I went to chapel
After breakfast and a delicious apple;
With hugs and kisses all were greeted,
Followed by silence as all were seated.

'Twas then that I saw upon each face
The reason that Oakwood's the place
Where every creature — even the mouse
Knows that here "Loveliness Keeps House."

The unceasing rains, I well remember,
Fell on the first day of November.
Obviously that was the reason
Nature enjoyed such a joyous season.

I heard bees buzzing and birds singing;
I saw chipmunks hopping and squirrels swinging.
I saw oak trees firm and tall
Responding gently to nature's call.

So, my friend, as you can see,
Oakwood is the school — the place to be.
Students, staff and teachers, too,
Make life happy here for you.

Hiking is just one of the many activities that makes Oakwood the exciting place it is.

"Michelle, didn't you know that you should close your eyes when your pray?"

"Herma, is it past your bedtime?"

Paul Williamson

It never fails, there's always at least one person that catches the camera.

Is this game A League or B League? You decide.

Either these seniors have a problem with itching, or they don't hear very well.

Take notes. Elaine Gray is in the ultimate state of coolness.

The rock quarry is a favorite location for relaxation and Sabbath retreats.

Paul Williamson

"Lori, did I miss the party?" "No, actually you're an hour early."

Paul Williamson

Liston Munroe

"Okay Grant, What are you doing football or ballet?"

Catch me if you can. Carlin Alford gives his opponents a run for their money.

Liston Munroe

Erin Coleman

"Are there seconds on the pizza? My friend wants to know."

The Bold and the Beautiful

The bold and the beautiful, I mean beautiful.

Q: Where do most students hang out on Thursday and Saturday nights during Winter quarter?
A: The Gym.

Chapel at 9:15-11:00 on Tuesday mornings is a part of every student's agenda.

I'm sure Robin would agree, sometimes expressions say much more than words.

"Freddie, smile for the camera."
"No, I'd rather not."

Say, C-H-E-E-S-E!

"Delicia, am I doing this right?" "Gayle, I just told you how to do it."

"Did you see the cafe monitor? I don't feel like taking up my tray today."

"Shanda, your bag wouldn't be so heavy if you hadn't taken so much food from the cafe."

Paul Williamson

"Help take a bite out of crime, Rah!"

Liston Munroe

"Psst ... someone just stole some food." "Not again!"

Gary, are you there?

Life's crisis often makes one forget how to do the simple things in life like tying your shoes.

Paul Williamson

Michael, you're serving from the wrong side of the court.

"Students, please bear with us; the program will begin in about fifteen minutes. Sorry for the delay."

February 4th was a day for the entire school. Faculty & Staff, college and elementary students all gathered on the front lawn to cheer on the Buffalo Soldiers.

"There's a fly in my soup"

"Krista, did you see him pop out of that cake?"

Paul Williamson

"Some people complain about the food, but I think it's great."

Some students prefer to study in the library; others enjoy the open environment of fresh air, the agility of swimming ducks, and the warm sunshine at the pond.

Erin Coleman

Cheers! Let's hear it for the boys.

One of the many exciting moments on the court during the pre-season games.

"Shouldn't you two guys be working?"

Take 1, Take 2: Woody and Kelly, please look straight ahead; LaJunta, put your hand down.

You'd have to be a native to understand.

Paul Williamson

"Hey, Colleen, C-O-L-L-E-E-N! Are you ignoring me or what?"

Ask Lisa; I'm sure she'd agree that the end of the day is always the best part of the day.
